GLYNN IS DETERMINED—SULZER STILL DEFIANT

Rival Attempts for Authority Demoralize State of New York.

DEPARTMENTS ARE DIVIDED

Sulzer Faction Adheres to Contention That Impeachment is Invalid—Glynn Ignores Orders of Impeached Governor

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 14.—Lieutenant Governor Glynn will make a formel demand upon Governor Sulzer tomorrow for possession of the executive chamber at the Capitol, and thus bring to an issue the question as to who is Governor of the State of New York. This was announced tonight by friends of the lieutenant governor.

Governor Sulzer, it is said, will refuse to relinquish possession of the chamber and in anticipaton of such a demand is understood already to have prepared a letter flatly declining to accede to it.

What further action will then be taken by Mr. Glynn was not indicated tonight, but the general expectation was that the rival claimants to the Governor's chair would resort to the courts for a test case under an agreed statement of facts.

Word came from Saratoga tonight that Secretary of State May would refuse to recognize Mr. Sulzer as Governor unless Attorney General Carmody should render an opinion to the countrary. Adjutant General Hamilton formally recognized Mr. Glynn as Governor this afternoon.

The complex machinery of the State government, over which both William Sulzer and Martin H. Glynn, claimed sole authority, bade fair today to be demoralized by their rival attempts to direct it.

Heads of the many departments were divided into two groups. One of these groups under the leadership of Sulzer, adhered to his contention that his impeachment yesterday was unconstitutional and prepared to continue their obedience to his instructions as if there had been no impeachment. The other, holding that he ceased to be Governor when the Senate received the articles of impeachment charged against him was marshaled under the standard of Lieutenant Governor Glynn, ready to carry out his orders and to ignore any which the impeached Governor might see fit to issue.

Historical Precedents Broken

Never in the history of the State has its army of employes been more demoralized. Nor does the panic affect only the internal affairs of New York. It extends to the State's relations with other commonwealths.

Whatever the future might bring forth no permanent relief in the situation was indicated today. Leaders of the two factions expected no settlement of the problem until after the meeting of the Legislature next Tuesday at noon. Then they believe, the issue will be squarely joined and ready for submission to the courts by the Legislature's formal recognition of Lieutenant Governor Glynn, as acting Governor.

Reports today were that such recognition would be granted by the Senate by confirming the appointment by Governor Glynn of a State labor commissioner. Abram I. Elkus, of New York city, was said to be the man favored by Mr. Glynn for the office.

Although Governor Sulzer and his counsel—a group with wide reputation as lawyers of ability—planned to ignore the impeachment formally for the time being on the grounds that it was unconstitutional, the Governor will make a spirited defense before the court of impeachment which meets on Thursday, September 18th. At this meeting, it is expected, preparations will be made to begin the trial on the following Monday, September 22nd.

Mrs. Sulzer Critically Ill

The Governor's wife, star witness for the defense, lay seriously ill in a state of collapse at the executive mansion this forenoon. To friends who visited her bedside yesterday she declared hysterically that she alone was to blame for bringing to her husband the trouble he faces. A specialist on nervous disorders, summoned by wire from New York city last night, is in constant attendance upon her.

His wife's illness has affected Governor Sulzer deeply. When he learned the serious nature of her ailment last night he declared, in an outburst of impulsiveness, that he would never permit her to take the witness stand at his trial. Friends expect to dissuade him from this, however, should her condition improve sufficiently, as they believe that the Governor's case will be materially strengthened when she tells her story to the court.

Mrs. Sulzer's illness is so serious as to be regarded as critical, according to announcement made today by Governor Sulzer's secretary. Two additional specialists were summoned from New York by telegraph this morning to attend her.

Governor Sulzer came to the capitol shortly before 11 o'clock this morning and went directly to his private office of the executive chamber, through a side entrance.

"Everybody in the State of New York ought to be with me in this fight," he said.

"You know we had a conference over at the Peoples House last night, my lawyers and I," the Governor said to the reporters. "They made me promise not to talk. There isn't a word that I can tell you."

He had hardly reached his office before Patrick E. McCabe, clerk of the Senate, sent in word that he wanted to wait on him and the Governor said he would see him in a minute. The articles of impeachment and the summons were served by Mr. McCabe on

EARLY VOTE ON TARIFF FOILED

Republicans Serve Notice That Consideration of the Measure Will be Continued Indefinitely. Democrats Disappointed.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The first definite effort of the Democrats to secure an agreement for an early vote on the tariff bill failed in the Senate today, when Republicans served notice that consideration of the measure would be continued indefinitely. They denied the Democratic charges that they were "filibustering", but insisted that the tariff bill would be debated "fully and freely," before they would consent to any agreement for a final vote.

Leading Senators of both parties, as a result of the day's developments tonight predicted a session of Congress that would run until late October or November. Early in the day President Wilson had made it known that he would not approve of any Congressional recess until the currency reform bill has been disposed of. This attitude was endorsed by Democratic leaders and those who had favored a recess after the passage of the tariff bill apparently had resigned themselves tonight to a continual session of Congress.

Senator Simmons, as manager of the tariff debate, made a formal request when the Senate took up the measure for an agreement to vote August 25th. Republicans of both the Regular and Progressive elements objected. Senator Gallinger, the Republican leader, tried to draw the Democrats into an announcement of whether they proposed to take up and pass the currency bill, but the Democrats declined to commit themselves on the subject.

Senators LaFollette and Bristow, both of whom have important amendments and substitutes to offer to various sections of the Democratic bill, declared they would consent to no agreement for a vote until the tariff measure has been discussed in detail, and all necessary time given for debate and attempted amendment.

The Senate Democrats took up the tariff situation in a caucus that began in the morning and was continued after the adjournment of the Senate tonight. Thus far the bill has moved slowly and debate has been so exhaustive as to indicate an indefinite delay before its final passage. Many of the most important schedules either have not been reached or have been passed over.

These include the sugar, wool, cotton, silk and other schedules; the income tax, the proposed changes in administrative law, the Hitchcock proposal for an anti-monopoly tax on tobacco and many other subjects of prime importance in the tariff fight. The Senate spent all of today on the wheat duty and from the vigor of the debate it was apparent that the agricultural schedule might be under discussion for at least another day.

President Wilson's desire for action on both tariff and currency at this session was made known to many Senators during the day, and the Republican antagonism to his attitude was reflected in the debate that characterized the early part of the session of the Senate. Republicans accused the Democrats of obeying the party "whip" and surrendering their individual opinions as to tariff rates and subjects of legislation.

The fight over the Democratic plan to put wheat on the free list brought out many strong speeches from Western Senators during the day's debate. Senator Gallinger, of New Hampshire, said he believed the 12 New England Senators would vote with the Western Republicans for a duty on wheat, and other agricultural products, although they did not expect the Western Senators would show the same anxiety to protect New England manufacturers.

The Democratic amendment putting wheat on the free list and striking out the 10 cent per bushel tariff rate, fixed by the House Democrats, was adopted by the Senate by a vote of 37 to 32. A subsequent motion by Senator Gronna to fix a duty of six cents per bushel on wheat and one-eighth of a cent per pound on wheat flour, was defeated, 37 to 31.

FRANK TRIAL NEARS END.

Defendant's Counsel Expect to Close Case Friday

Atlanta, August 14.—That the trial of Leo M. Frank for the murder of Mary Phagan, the little factory girl, would end this week was predicted by attorneys for the defense late today. Luther C. Rosser, one of Frank's counsel, said that the defense expected to close its case Friday. Should this be done the fate of the accused man may be in the jury's hands before midnight Saturday. Although the trial has not yet covered three weeks, the records of the case are said to be the most voluminous of any criminal trial in the history of Georgia. It was estimated tonight that this record contains more than 600,000 words or about 500 columns of solid newspaper matter.

Efforts of the defense were today confined for the most part to an attempt to establish an alibi for Frank. A number of witnesses were introduced to testify as to the movements of the accused on the day of the murder. Mrs. Emil Selig, Frank's mother-in-law, testified to Frank's good character and habits, and said that his domestic life was a happy one.

Attorneys for Frank made a vigorous effort today to have stricken from the record certain questions, characterized by the defense lawyers as leading and insinuating, which were put to character witnesses by Solicitor Dorsey. After listening to arguments on the subject, Judge Roan ruled that the questions should stay in evidence. The court announced that the State could ask character witnesses whether or not they had knowledge of certain alleged improper conduct on the part of Frank, but could not himself introduce testimony in support of these allegations.

AMBASSADOR GETS PUBLIC REPRIMAND

President Admonishes Wilson for Attack on British Foreign Office.

BRYAN ISSUES STATEMENT

America Expresses Regret to Great Britain—Foreign Powers Still Favor Uncle Sam's Policy Towards Mexico

Washington, August 14.—President Wilson tonight publicly reprimanded Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson for his recent attack on the British foreign office. Ambassador Page was instructed to express to Sir Edward Gary the regret of the American government that a diplomatic official of the United States "should have been guilty of such an impropriety."

The action of the administration here followed the receipt of a cablegram from Ambassador Page in London, officially confirming the Associated Press dispatch which had quoted a statement from the British government that it had recognized the Huerta regime in Mexico along with France and Germany after a "congratulatory speech" to President Huerta by Ambassador Wilson on behalf of the diplomatic corps in Mexico City.

The official interpretation of the statement here was that Great Britain at the time believed from Ambassador Wilson's act that the United States intended to recognize the Huerta government. Ambassador Wilson in an authorized interview declared that if the statement really emanated from the British foreign office, it was "pure subtifuge unworthy of the British foreign office" and "at variance with its traditions and with the character it has maintained before the world for two centuries."

Secretary Bryan after a conference with the President tonight then sent the following cablegram to Ambassador Page:

"The interview given to the press yesterday by Mr. Henry Lane Wilson, whose resignation as ambassador to Mexico has been accepted to take effect at the end of his vacation, October 14th, having been brought to the President's attention, he directs me to ask you to call at the British foreign office and say to Sir Edward Grey that he disclaims all responsibility for Mr. Wilson's action in the matter and for the language employed by him in his interview, and that he regrets exceedingly that a diplomatic official in the employ of this government should have been guilty of such an impropriety."

Bryan's Statement

Secretary Bryan not only gave the above to the press, but issued the following statement:

"A copy of the cablegram to the American embassy was sent to Ambassador Wilson. Mr. Bryan added that the President does not go further at this time because he takes it for granted that the action which he is obliged to take in this matter will be to him (Ambassador Wilson) a sufficient reminder of his official duties."

In this connection it was admitted that the administration had seriously considered a summary acceptance of Ambassador Wilson's resignation to take effect immediately, but it was said by officials who characterized tonight the action as a sufficient reprimand, that only in the event of any other utterance or action distasteful to the administration by the ambassador would be such a course be followed.

Administration officials felt particular solicitude about the possible effect of Ambassador Wilson's remarks in Great Britain because at this time the American government is relying on the moral support of the European powers in the effort to suggest a peaceful ending to the Mexican revolution.

Informal assurances have been received by President Wilson that foreign governments are disposed to look with favor on the peace policy being pursued by the United States and in turn, the Washington administration intends to keep these governments fully advised of the steps taken by John Lind, personal representative of the President in Mexico.

Lind's Mission

Definite information came from the White House today concerning Mr. Lind's mission to the effect that he carried the views of the American government towards Mexico in writing, and that he would present these views through Charge O'Shaughnessy when it seemed to him the best opportunity offered. He probably will not act, however, before next week. It was learned that while various ideas are suggested throughout the document, there is no direct proposal for interference by the United States in the course of Mexican politics.

The President, it was learned, desires through the communication to make perfectly clear to the Huerta government what the views of the administration here are, and at the White House, it was stated that these views are intended to help the situation in Mexico without any intervention or undue meddling on the part of the United States.

While it is realized that the success of the mission depends largely on the manner in which the views of the American government are received by President Huerta, it was not disclosed what steps would be taken in event of a rejection of the suggestions implied in the American note.

Much has been left to Mr. Lind's discretion, but it was stated authoritatively that no change in principle would be made in the communication which he carries and he is instructed to carry out to the letter the general

SENATE MAJORITY DETERMINED TO ACT

Prolong Session "Until Snow Flies, if Necessary.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS FIRM

Seek to Dispose of Tariff and Currency Legislation—Will Keep at Work Until Legislative Programme is Completed.

Washington, Aug. 14.—"Congress will remain in session 'until snow flies,' and if necessary prolong the extra session until the regular term begins in December to dispose of tariff and currency legislation."

This was the decision of the Democratic caucus of the Senate tonight which adopted a resolution declaring that Congress should proceed to consider and determine legislation concerning currency and banking immediately following the passage of the pending tariff bill.

The decision to keep at work until the legislative programme outlined by President Wilson has been disposed of, came after a motion offered by Senator Lewis, of Illinois, that a recess be taken following the passage of the tariff bill, had been withdrawn for lack of support. Though there were some Democratic Senators who favored a recess, the events of the day in the Senate which showed the purpose of the Republicans to debate the tariff at length, had served to convince the majority that any recess was out of the question.

Determination to take up currency legislation did not carry with it approval of any policy or commit the party to any particular currency bill.

Senator Owen, chairman of the Banking and Currency committee, offered the original resolution. This directed that the Senate take up for consideration the Glass-Owen bill now in caucus in the House. Considerable discussion followed the introduction of this and several amendments were offered, the resolution finally adopted being a composite effort, which would not commit the Senate Democrats to any set currency.

"The action of the caucus tonight," said Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance committee, "means that we are ready to stay here until snow flies to carry out the work before us. I believe it will facilitate action in the tariff, because the minority may know just what our purpose is.

"This will serve notice on the Republicans that we can stay here just as long as they can and that we will prolong this into the regular session, if necessary."

Senator Kern, chairman of the caucus, said that the action was preceded by harmonious deliberation. The motion for a recess until November 1st or 15th, after the passage of the tariff bill, he asserted, received so little support that it was withdrawn before being put to a vote.

Most of the discussion related to the currency resolution. Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, a member of the Banking and Currency committee, who was opposed to the enactment of such legislation at this time, and not in harmony with the pending currency bill, vigorously objected to any action that would comit the Democrats to a definite policy.

"We determined to take up currency legislation at this session," said Senator Hitchcock after the caucus, "but we are left free in so far as any particular bill is concerned."

Former Congressman Who May Run for Governor

Hon. John D. Bellamy, of New Hanover, who has been prominently mentioned as a probable candidate for Governor of North Carolina three years hence, stated yesterday that he would not say positively that he would make the race, but he has left the impression most strongly that when the time comes he will be in the running. As the East is entitled to the nomination next and as Mr. Bellamy is well known throughout the State, being prominent in the councils of his party, he will without a doubt loom large on the horizon as a gubernatorial candidate in the not distant future.

AMEND CURRENCY MEASURE

Commercial Paper Based on Warehouse Receipts to be Accepted for Re-discount by Federal Reserve Banks

Washington, August 14.—An amendment designed to make it clear that commercial paper based on warehouse receipts for staple commodities would be accepted for re-discount by Federal reserve banks proposed in the administration currency bill, was practically agreed upon today in the House Democratic caucus. The amendment to which Chairman Glass said the banking and currency committee would not object, was offered by Majority Leader Underwood. Democratic leaders expressed the belief that this would satisfy the demands of the currency "insurgents."

The re-discount provision of the bill as drawn, provides that the Federal reserve board may define what paper shall be admitted to re-discount, but specifies that such definition shall not include notes or bills drawn for the purpose of trading in or carrying "stocks bonds or other securities." Representative Underwood pointed out that there was some apprehension in which he did not share, that the words "other securities" might be construed as embracing papers issued on warehouse receipts for carrying farmers' crops. Mr. Glass said this was not the case, but that the committee regarded the words as non-essential and was willing to let them be stricken out.

Representative Byrne, of South Carolina, declared that the provisions that paper having been more than 60 days maturity should not be discounted by the reserve banks, so limited the amount of paper which Southern banks could re-discount that the reserve banks would be absolutely of no service to the country or local banks. He explained that 80 per cent of the paper made after June 1st, through the country or local banks was made to mature after October 1st.

The speakers today included Representatives Byrnes, of South Carolina; Phelan, of Massachusetts; Korbly, of Indiana, and others.

Representatives Ragsdale, of South Carolina, and Henry White approving the proposed amendment, declared it did not fully meet their contention.

Representative Wingo, of Arkansas, who has been one of the "insurgents" expressed the view that he and the administration forces could "get together on common ground."

COMPILING A REPORT.

Commission at Work on Agricultural Co-operative Finance.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Plans have been completed for the compilation of the report of the Federal commission on agricultural co-operative finance and agricultural co-operation as soon as its investigations of European agricultural credits and co-operation have been concluded. Headquarters of the organization were established today, with the Senate committee on interstate commerce and a corps of assistants engaged to make the compilation.

President Wilson has recommended the postponement of rural credits legislation until December session in order that this report may be considered by Congress.

Headquarters for the American commission, a body which has co-operated with the Federal commission in the investigations of European credits and co-operaton, also have been established here and it will compile a report on the subject to be submitted to the Governors of 36 States and the premiers of five Canadian provinces, which were represented by delegates on the American commission. Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, of Florida, chairman of the Federal commission, will submit a preliminary report of the investigation of both organzations at the meeting of the House of Governors in Colorado Springs, Colo., on August 26th.

CARLTON TO ITALY.

Wife Killer Turned Over to Italian Officials Yesterday.

New York, Aug. 14.—The case of Porter Charlton, self-confessed slayer of his wife, was removed today from the jurisdiction of the United States when he was given over by the warden of the jail at Jersey City to two Italian policemen, in accordance with extradition papers. He was reported to be in high spirits in prospect of a sea voyage after nearly three years confinement and confident that at the hands of the Italian authorities he would receive an acquittal.

Before being removed to the steamship Re D'Italia, which sails today for Italy, he shook hands with all the jail officials and his fellow prisoners and he was also visited by his father, Judge Paul Charlton, who with his wife, will go to Italy to be present at the trial.

Charlton was a young bank clerk and was on his honeymoon with Mrs. Neville H. Castle, daughter of Henry H. Scott, a San Francisco coal merchant, when the tragedy occurred at Lake Como, Italy, near which the couple had been living in a villa, Mrs. Charlton's body was found June 10, 1910, in a trunk at the bottom of the lake. Charlton was traced to America, where he confessed to killing his wife. He has bitterly fought extradition for the past three years, but on July 8th last he lost his appeal when the Supreme Court of the United States held that he must be given up to the Italian authorities.

Minot, N. D., Aug. 14.—Plans of Industrial Workers of the World to hold another street meeting tonight were upset when a heavy rain storm broke over the city, dispersing the crowds that had gathered in the down town streets.

WILMINGTON PORT BOTTLED UP BY A. C. L.

Pres. Tate Says City Cannot Be Basing Point Until Uncorked

ADDRESSED MAYORS' MEETING

Carolina Municipal Association Hears Notable Addresses From Mayors of High Point and Greensboro—Other Speeches.

"As long as Wilmington is bottled up by the Atlantic Coast Line as it is at the present time it cannot be made a basing point for freight rates," was the opinion expressed by Mayor Fred N. Tate, of High Point, president of the North Carolina Just Freight Rate Association, in an able and concise address on the "Unjust Discrimination in Freight Rates," delivered yesterday afternoon before the Carolina Municipal Association in fifth annual convention at the Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, with 35 or more of the chief executives of the leading cities and towns of the State in attendance.

The first session of the convention was held yesterday morning. It was originally planned to hold only one session yesterday, but when it was found that Mayor Tate, who was on the programme for today, would have to return early this morning, it was decided to have an afternoon session in order to hear his address.

Mayor Chas. A. Bland, of Charlotte, president of the association, called the convention to order shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the assembly hall of the Oceanic Hotel. Rev. Harris Mallinckrondt, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Charlotte, opened the convention with prayer.

Mayor Parker Quince Moore, of Wilmington, and Mayor Thos. H. Wright, of Wrightsville Beach, delivered addresses of welcome which were responded to by Mayor O. B. Eaton, of Winston-Salem. Following these addresses Col. Alex. J. Feild, of Raleigh, one of the editors of the State Journal, addressed the convention on the subject, "How North Carolina Towns and Cities Can Secure Lower Fire Insurance Rates." Mayor Thos. J. Murphy, of Greensboro, spoke on "The Commission Form of Government."

Mayor Moore, in welcoming the Mayors to Wilmington, stated that the people of the Cape Fear section are always glad to welcome the stranger within her gates, and that he deemed it a high privilege and honor to greet such an able body of men who in all probability contained among their number a future Governor of the State. He expressed the opinion that the most important question that could come before them was how to secure a progressive government for all our cities.

Wilmington, he stated, is trying to accomplish the most possible with the lowest tax rate. It is true that at the present time the tax rate is a little high, but when it is considered what has been done the city of Wilmington, he believed, has received value received for every dollar expended. The sum of $500,000 has been expended for water and sewerage improvements, $450,000 for improved streets and only recently $35,000 for an incinerator.

"The people of Wilmington," he said in conclusion, "are a peculiar people, strong in their likes and dislikes and firm in their opinions. They are ever ready to fight for their rights and for principle but they are not selfish, and if misfortune should come either to enemies or friends 30,000 Cape Fear hearts would extend sympathy, 30,000 hands would be outstretched to help and aid, and 30,000 prayers would ascend to heaven for their deliverance."

Mayor Wright, who was introduced by Mayor Bland as the "right Mr. Wright", stated that he was glad to welcome the Mayors to the beach for he believed that after their heavy work of deliberation Wrightsville with her diversified list of pleasures could rejuvenate and re-create and make them feel more keenly the joy of living. Wrightsville, he stated, had the Commission Form of Government and is also the first city in the South to have woman suffrage, so that it cannot be said that it is not progressive.

The Response.

Mayor Eaton was introduced by Mayor Bland as the silver tongued orator of the Mayors, and he fully sustained this reputation as he responded to the glowing welcome that had been extended by the two local Mayors. With words of eloquence he pictured "the city by the sea" with her old fashioned hospitality, warm hearts and fraternal hands as she extended a welcome through her Mayor that was indeed cordial and sincere.

From the time of the Indian hunter and the days of the stage coach he traced the growth and development of modern inventions and declared that civic improvements have ever been in the forefront of modern civilization. As all nature is made to contribute to the growth of a flower, so must a city, he said, promote the growth of not only industries, but also of better environments for its citizens, better morality and better education. In conclusion he urged that the mayors put their heart into their work, and the rest would take care of itself, for that is the main thing after all in every walk and phase of life.

Col. Feild's Address.

In beginning his address Col. Feild stated that community living is one of the main facts of modern life, and the Mayors are the representatives of this part of the social organization. There should be united action for the promotion of all good things

GIANTS TOOK DOUBLE BILL

Defeated St. Louis Cardinals Twice Yesterday—Phils Also Double Winners—Cubs Took Two and Pirates One

The Giants opened up on their home grounds yesterday afternoon by winning both ends of a double-header from the St. Louis Cardinals, whom they have as their guests for four days. Fromme and Marquard officiated in the early game, while Jeff Tesreau went the entire route without assistance in the latter matinee. The games were characterized by frequent misplays, a total of nine errors being accredited to the two teams as a result of the afternoon's play.

The Phils also opened on its home grounds for a long stay by taking both ends of a double bill from the Cincinnati Reds, the first by a one-to-nothing shut-out and the second by a count of seven to two. Lemmuel Ames, who is doing regular duty now on the firing line, opened hostilities for the Reds and was opposed by Grover Cleveland Alexander. Ames gave way to George Suggs in the sixth but Alexander went the entire course without assistance. In the latter event, Brown opposed Tom Seaton throughout the entire extent of the game.

The Chicago Cubs took both ends of a double-header from the Boston Braves.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, the winner of yesterday's engagement, lost their position in the standing of the clubs, as the Cubs by virtue of two victories yesterday went into third place.

Brouthers Holds Long Hit Record

When Shoeless Joe Jackson, the Nap clouter, drove the ball to the roof of the Brush stadium on a recent visit of the Clevelands to New York City, the effort was so spectacular that many were led to believe it was the longest hit ever made on a ball field. But Johnny McGraw, Hugh Jennings and other members of the Baltimore baseball club of the early 90's, while admitting that Jackson made a rather nifty wallop, declare that the smash of Daniel Brouthers, at Oriole Park, Baltimore, in 1894, practically discounted Jackson's effort.

John Murphy, ground keeper for the Giants, who acted in the same capacity for the Baltimores at the time the hit was made, is the best witness for Brouthers. Murphy measured the distance in Baltimore from the home plate to the point at right center where the ball sailed over the fence, and makes affidavit it was 500 feet. The reason for the measurements was that a great many wagers were made as to the exact distance the ball went on a line before it disappeared over the fence.

After clearing the fence the ball rolled two blocks, and was captured by Herman von de Horst, an official of the Baltimore club. A large sign bearing the significant "Here" marked the place where the ball jumped the fence. John McGraw, in commenting on the hit, said it was the greatest hit he ever saw or ever expected to see.

The distance from the home plate at the Brush stadium to the point where Jackson's hit climbed on the roof is 271 feet. It is estimated that Brouthers' hit rolled more than 200 feet after clearing the fence, which would make the total distance covered by the ball more than 700 feet. Brouthers, in his prime, was famous for long, low drives on a line to right center.

AN EXCITING FINISH.

In Open Championship Tournament of Metropolitan Golf Association.

Garden City, N. Y., Aug. 14.—After an exciting finish in the open championship tournament of the Metropolitan Golf Association at the Salisbury links today, Alec Smith won the title by a margin of one stroke from Tom McNamara, of Boston, who won the championship honors a year ago. Smith made the best round during the tournament when he turned in a card of 70 in the third round early today, but he putted poorly in the final round for 75, which made his total for 72 holes 291.

John J. McDermott, of Atlantic City, National open champion, who had led the big field from the start, was looked upon as a sure winner after Smith's score was seen. He, too, was weak in putting and his final effort, a 76, placed him three strokes behind Smith with a total of 194.

McNamara was going nicely at this stage as he went out in 36 holes on his final journey and needed a 34 coming into win. He was unequal to the task, on the home green he had a 12-foot putt for a four, which would have tied Smith, but he missed and was down in five for a round of 72, making his aggregate for the four rounds 292.

Oswald Kirky, of Englewood, N. J., led the amateurs with a total of 311.

COBB VS. JACKSON

Another day's low descending sun saw Cobb and Jackson with nothing accomplished to alter their standing as leaders in the American League swatting arena. The standing up to Wednesday night, therefore stands the same, Jackson holding the lead by four points.

NAPS NUDGED ATHLETICS

Took Opener of Series With the League Leaders—Tigers Won from Senators—Bedient Won for Boston—Yanks Also

With a matter of six and a half games dividing them for possession of top position, a difference that has remained the same for more than two weeks, the Cleveland Naps edged one closer to the league leaders by winning the first game of a "crucial series" from the Athletics by a six to two score. The Naps hit Eddie Plank hard, for a total of ten safeties, and Blanding was backed up by splendid fielding.

Bob Veach's slugging proclivities and Ty Cobb's daring base running proved an unbeatable combination yesterday, and the Tigers won the opener from the Washington Senators by a five to four score. In the eighth inning Cobb beat out a bunt, stole second, and came home when Veach popped one against the score board for two bags.

Bedient was unhittable, and the Boston Red Sox won handily from the St. Louis Browns by a four to nothing score.

The New York Yankees, on two bunched hits in the seventh, with a sacrifice and a stolen base, won the opening game from the Chicago White Sox by a shut-out score, two to nothing. Russell Ford, for the Yanks, opposed Red Russell, of the Cubs, on the firing line.

Naps Netted Another

Cleveland, August 14.—Cleveland today won from Philadelphia in handy style, hitting Plank hard and backing up their own pitcher, Blanding, splendidly. The score was 6 to 2.

Cobb!

Detroit, August 14.—Veach's slugging and Ty Cobb's daring on the bases today, proved an irresistible combination and Detroit defeated Washington 5 to 4. In the eighth, Cobb beat out a bunt, stole second without sliding and came home when Veach dented the scoreboard with a double.

SHORT TWO TWIRLERS.

American Club of St. Louis Deprived of Two Pitchers.

St. Louis, Aug. 14.—The local American club will be without the service of two of its best pitchers for some time. Roy Mitchell, star right-hander, who alleges he was insulted by Umpire O'Loughlin in New York Tuesday, and who engaged in a verbal battle with the arbiter today received notice from President B. B. Johnson, of the American League, that he had been indefinitely suspended.

"Lefty" Hamilton, Manager Stovall's best twirler, will be out for about ten days as the result of an injury to his pitching arm received while the team was en route from New York yesterday.

JAPANESE ARRESTED

Held for Harboring Women for Immoral Purposes.

Washington, August 14.—The Bureau of Immigration today issued warrants for the arrest of Hidequni Iwata, a wealthy Japanese, and his wife, Norale Iwata, on the charge of harboring women for immoral purposes in Fresno, Cal. Iwata and his wife, immigration officials declare, were proprietors of property which housed 27 women arrested in a recent raid by the Fresno police. Iwata and his wife may be released on bond. Iwata is held by the Fresno police.

Optimist Dooin "Needs Breaks"

Philadelphia, Aug. 14.—Charles Dooin, the fighting manager of the Phillies, says he is going to win the National League pennant despite the present speed of the Giants. The only "if" Charlie puts in his prediction is "if I am lucky in the breaks," and he doesn't see a single reason why he should not be lucky. So far as he is able to see he has reinforced the team in all departments.

"I am more than satisfied with my team and I am justly proud of our record," Dooin said. "I believe that we will tumble the Giants out of their perch before we are called to go West again. We are going at the right clip just now, and with the boys simply aching for a chance to get busy I cannot but feel that we will soon be on top.

"When one considers the disadvantages we have labored under for the last two months and then consider just how gamely we have plugged along, then we will receive proper credit.

"Look at New York. With unlimited funds at his disposal, McGraw goes into the market and buys at any price if necessary. But at that it is hardly necessary for him to lay out any large amount of money, because he seems to be able to land them when he goes after any particular player. Take McLean, for instance, whom he secured from St. Louis. I offered three times as much for McLean as McGraw paid for him, yet I failed. So you see just how the land lies. McGraw has the inside rail and he never bothers about competition.

"I have succeeded in getting Josh Devore from the Reds, and believe me, I am very much pleased, because Josh is a corking good ball player, and we will find plenty for him to do.

"Then I will be ready for duty myself. I was just right when Bescher, the big outfielder of the Cincinnati Reds, jumped on me with his spikes and laid me on the side lines again. However, it is only a question of a few days when we will all be as good as ever and ready to give battle to any of them."

GRAND CIRCUIT RACING.

Only Three Contests Scheduled, But Plenty of Excitement.

Detroit, Aug. 14.—There were only three races on today's Grand Circuit programme, but they furnished plenty of excitement.

Marigold took the 2:08 trot in straight heats, View Elder was returned winner of 2:12 pace after five heats and Grand Marshall captured the 2:18 trot in four.

Cabel, who won the 2:10 pace yesterday in straight heats, looked like a winner in the 2:12 class today. He took the first two heats handily with View Elder close behind. In the third heat Red S., Flax Comity, Cabel and View Elder were bunched well into the stretch. Elder and Cabel drew away as they neared the wire and in the last few strides, Murphy shoved his gelding in front to win by a nose. View Elder took the next heat with less trouble. In the final round Murphy and Cox had a battle royal around to the last 100 yards, where Cable quit.

Eleanor G. led all the way in the first heat of 2:18 trot, but Grand Marshall was the best in the next three.

Both Cheeney and Peter Thompson made a poor showing in the 2:08 trot. Marigold was always ahead in the first heat. In the second Murphy kept her back until entering the stretch, when he sent her along to win with ease.

An unusual feature this afternoon was the parading in front of the stand of three horses which Geers had driven to victory in the M. & M. They were Dudie Archdale, winner in 1910; Anvill, 1911; and Reusens, 1913. The first two of these are in the free-for-all trot tomorrow, the third contender in which will be Cascade.

FARMERS AND HOUSEWIVES

To Hold Notable Convention in Raleigh, Discussing Problems of Progress in Their Respective Fields.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 14.—The 11th annual convention of North Carolina farmers will be held at the A. & M. College, this city, August 26th-28th, and at the same time a convention for housewives will be held in the Raleigh school building, and comprehensive programmes have been prepared for each meeting.

The officers of the farmers' meeting are C. W. Spruill, of Quitsna, president; E. B. Moore, of Charlotte, first vice president; J. H. Currie, of Fayetteville, second vice president; I. O. Schaub, of Raleigh, secretary and treasurer. The railroads have granted a rate of three cents a mile plus 25 cents, round trip, to those who attend the convention.

The A. & M. College, will furnish rooms in the dormitories free. Persons expecting to stay in the college rooms should bring their own towels, sheets and pillows. Meals will be furnished in the college mess hall at 25 cents each.

It is believed that one of the best programmes ever offered to the convention has been prepared, for both the meeting of the men and the women. It is urged that the attendance make the convention the largest in the State.

The housewives' convention is designed to bring housekeepers together for discussion of better methods of living; how best to make the household expenditures, how to market, to cook, to sew, to care for children and to improve home conditions generally. Every woman in North Carolina is invited to come, and Dr. Hill offers the resources of the A. & M. College free, the living cost being very low.

Men and women speakers from many places, including experts engaged in departmental work in both State and Nation, will be present to discuss every phase of farming and of the problems of the housekeeper.

KINSTON'S UNIQUE BUILDING.

Imperial Tobacco Plant an Architectural Freak.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Aug. 14.—Kinston claims the most unique building in North Carolina, from an architectural point, in the plant of the Imperial Tobacco Company, at Heritage street and Peyton avenue.

The large "factory", where an immense quontity of tobacco is re-dried, stemmed and packed each year for the export trade, has more angles than any other structure in the State, it is believed, and is one of the largest buildings in the city.

This house of many lines, which, however, presents a pleasing appearance rather than otherwise, is a freak of architecture because as it was necessary to add to it the adjacent ground which was purchased did not conform to the lines of the original property. The newest annex to the plant will be completed in a few days, and contains the following dimensions: A machine room about 50x200 feet; sand screen room, 25x140 feet, and cooperage and storeroom 25x180 feet. With these additions the factory will be one of the largest of its kind anywhere.

An agent of a driller company who came here from Beaver Falls, Pa., to confer with a committee from the board of aldermen, who were appointed to purchase new machinery for the city pumping station in West Kinston, brought with him a miniature deep well pump which attracted much attention. The tiny pump, an exactly proportioned model of the Downie type of machine, was exhibited in operation before the committee, taking water from a vessel in quantity proportionate to its size. The machine stands 15 inches high above the artificial ground, and is complete in every detail, including oil cups, a rail ladder, etc. It is operated by a motor which sits on a "make believe" brick foundation. The metal work is nicely finished and the whole apparatus beautifully executed.

The Kinston city schools will open on September 22nd, it was announced today, a little later than usual. A ruling by the board of health will require the vaccination of every pupil. The increase in attendance is expected to be around 100.

LABOR-SAVING MACHINERY

Cumberland County Commissioners Buy Two Road Machines

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., August 14.—Convinced that they will effect a saving, the County Commissioners have purchased two road machines and a road engine from the Good Roads Machine Company, of Charlotte, and the International Harvester Company, respectively. The purchase from the Harvester Trust was made through the Fayetteville Supply Company.

In testing the road-building machinery—for the commissioners gave it a thorough try-out before buying—a three-mile stretch of roadway east of the Cape Fear was worked in less than three hours. This was just an average road. It is claimed that the apparatus bought will do more work in a day than 100 convicts. Long before they have finished the 100 miles of roads they are rebuilding the commissioners expect to bring about sufficient saving through its use to pay for the machinery.

BESTIAL CRIME CHARGED.

Robeson White Man Arrested for Assault on Little Niece.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., Aug. 14.—John Carver, a white man, probably 35 years old, residing sevn miles from here in Wisharts township, was arrested and put in jail today charged with assaulting his niece, 13 or 14 years old.

The crime is said to have been committed near Hope Hills in Cumberland county, where the Carvers had gone to visit Tuesday night. The prisoner is charged with taking the child to ride, making her drunk and keeping her out nearly all night. A physician who examined her today stated that while he did not think the man accomplished his purpose, the victim, who is very frail, was badly injured. Sheriff Lewis has notified the Cumberland sheriff to come for Carver.

CARD OF APPRECIATION

It is the desire of her family and of the party of which she was a member to express in this manner their sincere appreciation of the help rendered by the people of Wrightsville Beach on the occasion of the drowning of Miss Ethel Edmondson, of Atlanta, Friday, August 8th, 1913. Their kind offers of such aid as they could render on the sad event will not be forgotten.—Advertisement.

FARMERS' ALLIANCE OFFER

Property at Hillsboro Worth $40,000 to be Given to State Farm School If the Counties So Vote—Tobacco Sales

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., August 14.—Major W. A. Graham, commissioner of agriculture, just back from the annual meeting of the North Carolina Farmers' Alliance at Hillsboro, says the Alliance referred to the various county lodges the question of turning over to the State the Alliance property at Hillsboro, to be converted into a farm life school by Orange county and the State through the operation of the general farm life school act.

The lodges are all to vote on the question by October 1st. The indications are that the proposition will be carried by a big majority. The buildings offered for the school are valued at $40,000. There were only 17 counties represented in the annual meeting of the State Alliance. Resolutions joining in the general protest against freight rate discrimination were adopted.

Governor Craig granted two pardons today, one for Thomas Reeve, Guilford county, serving 12 months for store breaking, the pardon being because the principal in the crime now asserts that Reece had nothing to do with it; the other is for Bud Myers, of Iredell county, convicted in January, 1913, of retailing, and sentenced to 12 months on the roads. Precarious health conditions cause the pardon to be recommended by court and county officers.

Governor Craig directs Judge Frank Carter to hold the Alamance county criminal court one week beginning August 18th and the Durham county court one week beginning August 25th, in the stead of Judge Foushee, whose physical condition prevents his serving on the bench for the present. He is hopeful of early recovery.

A requisition was issued today on the Governor of Georgia for Sydney Carr, who is wanted in Durham county as an escaped convict. He is under 12 months' sentence for bigamy. There is also a requisition from the Governor of Tennessee that was honored by Governor Craig today for Wiley E. Phillips, now being held in Mitchell county. He is charged with murder in Tennessee.

Loose leaf tobacco sales on the North Carolina markets during July aggregated 133,037,451 first hand for the farmers and 145,013,683 with resales and sales for dealers on the warehouse floors added. Winston-Salem had a big lead for the month with 20,522,454 pounds and Wilson had 15,089,762 pounds. There were 41 markets reporting sales. The others follow: Greenville, 14,521,029; Kinston, 8,279,530; Rocky Mount, 7,404,925; Oxford, 6,518,552; Reidsville, 5,812,983; Henderson, 5,342,599; Durham, 4,751,986; Roxboro, 4,287,664; Farmville, 4,268,010; Louisburg, 2,478,913; Fairmount, 2,746,194; Smithfield, 2,344,167; LaGrange, 2,291,942; Mount Airy, 2,112,057; Mebane, 1,906,527; Greensboro, 1,894,676; Warrenton, 1,659,927; Madison, 1,657,092; Snow Hill, 1,538,951; Stoneville, 1,590,543; Creedmoor, 1,476,408; Apex, 1,377,880; Fuquay Springs, 1,202,301; Wendell, 1,050,983; Youngsville, 1,025,648. Thirteen other markets had sales less than one million pounds each.

Citizens of Elkin and that section have petitioned to the Corporation Commission for an order requiring the Southern Railway Co., to convert the mixed train now operated between Winston-Salem and Wilkesboro via Elkin, into a full-fledged passenger train with proper equipment. The commission is taking the matter up with the railroad company and will press a determination of the case as speedily as possible.

The work on the reconstruction of the Raleigh postoffice building is resumed on an extensive scale again, it having been decided that the three outer walls on three sides of the old building left standing can be used in the reconstruction after all. There was announcement some weeks ago that these old walls would have to come down because of the difficulty of matching the old carvings for windows, doors and cornice work, and of anchoring the new structure on to the old walls. The work will go right along now along the lines of the old structure with the new building nearly twice the size of the old one.

JUDGE ROUNTREE PRESIDES

At Columbus Court the 25th—Docket Exceedingly Heavy

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., August 14.—Columbus county Superior Court convenes here Monday the 25th with Judge George Rountree, of Wilmington, presiding, and Solicitor Homer Lyon, of this place, appearing for the State. The docket is very heavy, there being 134 criminal cases and 374 civil cases. Among the lot are three divorce and three murder cases.

Justice Maxwell has sent up ten whiskey cases. Two of the defendants in these cases have forfeited their bonds.

Fair Bluff, on the county line, is fast becoming a leading tobacco market. Yesterday morning 100,000 pounds were on the floor. Up to the close of last week about $80,000 worth had been sold. One farmer has secured a price of $50 an acre for his share of a crop on 14 acres.

The grape crop in this section bids fair to be excellent. The Memory grape, a delightful variety, is the first to be expected, and is followed by the scuppernong, James and Thomas.

In a few days those families who have been spending the Summer at Lake Waccamaw, will return to Whiteville to place their children in school. This lake is a delightful place for recreation. Along its shores by the railroad is a fine, hard beach gently sloping into a soft, delightful water. People living in the shore get a fine breeze from across the water.

FINE AUTOMOBILE RUN.

Kinston Man Does Nearly 500 Miles in a Day and Night.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Aug. 14.—Four hundred and ninety-five miles in 24 hours and 45 minutes is a new record for the automobile run from New York to Breton Woods, N. H., made by Dr. W. T. Parrott, of Kinston, in his Cadillac touring car, according to intelligence received here.

Dr. Parrott, in company with half a dozen other people of this city, is touring New England. The figures are for actual running time, stopovers having been deducted. Not five minutes' delay was caused the tourists by auto trouble. The run made by Dr. Parrott was considered remarkable at Breton Woods, the route lying through the Berkshire hills and two mountain ranges, the Green and White Mountains. The party passed through New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire on the record trip.

GRIMES ISSUES STATEMENT.

Explains Failure of Bill to Work Convicts on Public Roads.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 14.—Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes issues a statement explaining why the bill by the State Association of County Commissioners in the last Legislature was not ratified in the last hours of the session after it had passed both branches, the statement being in answer to the resolution by the State Association of Commissioners in session at Statesville asking about the matter.

Col. Grimes shows that the bill was introduced in the House by Hon. R. A. Doughton, passed its readings and went to the Senate, where it was referred to a special committee that made a number of amendments. It passed in amended form, was sent to the House for concurrence in amendments, the House Journal showing that on motion of Mr. Doughton the bill was tabled. The title of the bill was "An act providing for working of convicts on the public roads."

The legislative committee of the commissioners reported that according to their instructions they had a bill prepared, and that it was passed by both houses, but for some reason was recalled from the enrolling room the last day; and the commissioners at Statesville Wednesday adopted the following resolution, which called forth the statement above:

"Resolved, That the legislative committee appointed at the preceding meeting of this association be and the same is hereby continued, and it is instructed to inquire into the failure of the Doughton bill regulating the employment of convicts on the public road to pass the General Assembly of 1913, and to urge the passage of the same at the coming special session of the General Assembly."

The azure blue ocean hugs the South Atlantic and Wilmington is the gem of its ports.

Commercial and financial journals report decided improvement in the outlook in Europe and practically all over the United States.

Daniel got out of the lion's den all right, and that is where he had the advantage over Governor Sulzer when he got in the Tammany tiger's path.

A New York judge has decided that a man who is in the habit of drinking eight highballs a day is not the man who should administer a trust. Would he really be able to hold down the bleachers?

Men who are little known will be distinguished before many moons. There is always a chance for young men to do something that will make their names ring around the world.

Less than 100 out of 2,500 manufacturers responded to a newspaper request for their opinion of tariff revision. Possibly 2,413 did not have an opinion that could be put into print in Sunday School language.

Governor Sulzer has a chance to play the martyr for his wife, so she won't have to rush in and become the goat in order to save him. How many different kinds of trouble can a man get into before he is aware of what is impending?

The people act wisely as they are led wisely. The people do not lead. They are led, but they ought to be careful about selecting the men to lead them. They will come out all right if they will follow their statesmen instead of tagging after the professional politicians.

Pathfinders who are looking for the road to success will find that the route lies through the scuppernong section of eastern North Carolina. This section is tied up with the cotton belt, the yellow tobacco belt, the trucking belt, the strawberry belt, and the peanut belt. It is the land that grows greenbacks and gathers coin. That accounts for its prosperity and its disposition to sing and whistle and give vent to contentment.

TO WORK ON INLAND WATERWAY

It is extremely gratifying that Gen. W. H. Bixby, for many years engineer in charge of river and harbor work at Wilmington, is a staunch friend of the intra-coastal waterway project. His expert and personal knowledge makes his committal to that enterprise a strong point in its favor, and it can now be said that next to the Panama canal, it is the most comprehensive waterways development that the government will next undertake. Its feasibility, practicability and utility are endorsed by the country's greatest engineers and waterway experts, and with the Isthmian waterway soon to be completed the government can rush the work on the Inland Waterway to completion.

It is estimated that most of the Inland Waterway can be completed in from one to two years and that in five years the entire route can be completed. The first work on it was done in North Carolina in making a cut through Core and Adams creeks to connect the waters of Pamlico and Bogue sounds, thus opening the waterway to navigation from Beaufort, N. C., northward through the great sounds of eastern North Carolina. Already the inland route is open to certain craft between Norfolk and Beaufort. The plan now, according to the last official report of General Bixby, submitted to Congress on Wednesday, recommends the appropriation of $20,000,000 to complete the Inland Waterway from Beaufort to Boston. The Albemarle canal south of Norfolk was recently purchased by the government and it is to be widened and deepened. With some other channel work in the North Carolina sounds, the waterway will be completed between Norfolk and Beaufort, a distance of 200 miles. The plan is to construct a ship canal twelve feet deep at mean low water, with subsequent plans for widening and deepening the waterway as the needs of commerce develop. The final plan is to make the waterway ninety feet wide.

It is gratifying that General Bixby recommends immediate improvement between Beaufort and Norfolk. He reports adversely on the proposition to cut a new canal to connect the Chesapeake Bay and Delaware river, but instead recommends the immediate purchase and improvement of the Chesapeake and Delaware canal. When the work on that canal is improved it would open the canal from Philadelphia to Beaufort.

We would like to see immediate work begin on the waterway south from Beaufort to Brunswick Bay, which is the lower Cape Fear, or preferably through Harrison's creek into the Northeast river which empties into the Cape Fear at Wilmington. That is the suggestion of our townsman, Captain E. D. Williams, and it is a feasible proposition that would bring inland waterway shipping right by the wharves of Wilmington. It would cost more than the recommended route, but it would pay for itself in commerce by reason of the large water traffic done at Wilmington. Here the waterway would have a junction with the canalized Cape Fear to Fayetteville, about 110 miles, work on which is progressing under supervision of Major H. W. Stickle, now engineer in charge of river and harbor improvements at Wilmington. It would also mean that at Wilmington the Inland Waterway would get the benefit of Wilmington's 400 miles of inland navigation on the Cape Fear river, Black river, Northeast river and their navigable tributaries of which comes down Topsail, Middle, Wrightsville, Greenville, Masonboro and Myrtle Grove sounds, and from the latter sound through a cut into the Cape Fear at or near Carolina Beach. That route would make inland waterway ports of Scott's Hill, Wrightsville and Carolina Beach, and it must be admitted that it would more than ever emphasize all that sound and ocean region for Summer and Winter resorts, while, of course, inland waterway shipping could come 14 miles up to Wilmington and also reach Fayetteville, Elizabethtown, Point Caswell, Long View, Rocky Point, Chinuepin, and other points on Wilmington's great sweep of inland river system. Southport would be right on the Inland Waterway, so that either route would greatly enlarge our commercial possibilities and prove an immense factor in developing the matchless resources of this splendid tidal region. By the way, our Carolina Beach friends already are counting on that resort's becoming a port and have picked out a large, deep bay in the sound just above that resort as a harbor and rendezvous for yachts and vessels using the waterway.

When the appropriation comes up, can't North Carolina Senators and the State's entire Congressional delegation see to it that the route from Beaufort to the Cape Fear be included in the "immediate" part of this great project? Wilmington certainly ought to get into the game on this matter, for at the next session of Congress the appropriation will include the recommendations of General Bixby for beginning work in earnest on the great Inland Waterway that is to give a very large class of shipping a safe passage inside of the ocean.

NO MORE CHEAP MEAT

While in New York a few days ago on his way to Europe, Mr. Patrick Cudahy, of Milwaukee, of the Cudahy packing house concern, told a representative of the Journal of Commerce that "cheap meat is a thing of the past." He declared that even the free cattle provided for in the new tariff revision bill will not bring back the low price of days gone by.

Evidently not, because it costs more to raise and fatten beef cattle, not to mention the fact that there is a cattle shortage in the country. The cost of raising cattle and fatening them for market will have to fall, and it can only do so gradually, if at all. Hence, if there is any decline in the price of meat it will be a very gradual process. Therefore, with high prices in prospect for many years to come, one of the most inviting industries for eastern North Carolina would be the raising of cattle by the thousands. In his interview in the Journal of Commerce, Mr. Cudahy says:

"We can never have meat as cheap as it used to be, because the ranges are disappearing, and land on which cattle are fed is worth more. I am glad we are going to have free cattle, for it certainly is necessary that we open up new sources of supply. There has been no opposition from the packers, you will notice, for their problem is to get the cattle. However, the free importation will benefit chiefly the Eastern packers, and while it will reduce prices to some extent it will not bring back the cheap meats we have been accustomed to.

"The trouble is we have been spoiled in past years when we could get cattle for 2 1-2 cents to 3 cents on the hoof. Conditions have changed; the big free pastures are no longer available and corn brings high prices. I do think, however, that we shall get cheaper hogs again, but by that I mean a seven or seven and one-half cent hog. That will not be right away either, but the hog run must eventually increase under the stimulation of the high prices now prevailing.

"As to available supplies of hog products from the Summer packing, they will all be needed and in some directions there may even be a scarcity, but it can be only temporary. The present stock of lard will be exhausted by December 1st. But all conditions are favorable for an increased production of hogs and they will come onto the market in due time. We have had a very good trade abroad, particularly with England. They have been enjoying prosperous times over there, for we find that they have been quite willing to pay the high prices necessary to get the good cuts."

The packers keep their eye on the corn crop, for that constitutes the principal feed of beef cattle. If it is plentiful there will be abundance of feed. A large corn crop consequently means cheaper corn, and that would somewhat lower the cost of fattening cattle. We get corn-fed beef when there is plenty of corn. With reference to this year's corn crop, Mr. Cudahy expressed the opinion that it will turn out to be in line with the early estimates of the Agricultural Department for a bumper crop. Nevertheless, he said there was a great deal of clamor about the poor corn prospects in Kansas, Oklahoma and the Southwest, but in his opinion that will have little or no effect on the production of this big country. In the northern sections of the corn belt a great crop is promised and he is satisfied the yield there will offset any corn shortage in the Southwest.

As cattle raising and corn growing go hand in hand, the South must remember that if it expects to contribute to the supply of beef cattle in the future it must begin to increase its corn production. It won't pay to fatten cattle on bought corn. We can grow corn and raise cattle in the South, and increase the agricultural independence of this country. We will have the additional advantage that we can utilize our cottonseed mill products to make this a great dairying country.

A "SOUTHERN" ADMINISTRATION.

All during the present tariff discussion the Republican Congressmen, crafty hypocrites that they are, have persistently endeavored to stir sectional prejudice by trying to make the impression on the country that the Wilson administration is partial to the South. Wednesday Senators Smoot and Bristow contrasted the action of the Democrats on wheat with that on rice, which, in the pending bill, is made dutiable at one cent a pound and the former suggested that the fact that rice is a Southern product might account for this.

On the job, as usual, Senator John Sharp Williams promptly knocked out this silly argument by showing that the duty on rice had been cut 50 per cent under the Payne-Aldrich duty, and that rice is not a basic article of American food, and is a legitimate revenue producer, while wheat is an article exported from this country throughout the world, needs no protection, absolutely, and is a staple article of food.

But the idea of taking so mean a fling at the South and the administration, after 50 years of National policy following the wants and demands of New England; after a half century of tariffs made for the manufacturers of the East! It is both a sample of the mean hyprocrisy of the opposition, for campaign purposes, and of the brand of argument they are putting up against a righteous movement to bring justice and equality to all the Nation instead of confining all favors to one thumbnail sketch of the U. S. map. It is a Democratic administration, and naturally the South is not hanging around the outside looking in; but the ideals of the Wilson regime are National in scope, more so than any administration in many years—equal rights to all, special privileges to none; a real square deal for every man and every section; a new freedom for the country wherein justice and fairness shall prevail.

OUR WEALTH-MAKING PRODUCTION

The Whiteville News-Reporter says Fair Bluff's tobacco market has been the means of putting $80,000 in the pockets of the farmers during the last three weeks of July, while "the outlook is good for many more thousands to find lodgment in the same pockets." That is doing pretty good for a mid-Summer crop that is sandwiched between the cash-getting truck and berry crops in the Spring and the cotton, peanut, corn and vegetable crops of the Fall.

How many counties have the diversified crops that bring about a distribution of cash every two to three months? How many counties have refrigerated transportation service into the big markets that this favored region has? Let us add cattle raising and dairying and we will have another ready cash getter. Let us get the government on our side and eradicate the cattle tick which stand in the way of stock raising to the best advantage.

The government shows closely watches the movement of cattle from tick-infested sections, from which it is unlawful to ship cattle to tick-free localities. It is unlawful for either private parties or railroads to ship cattle that are under the ban, and it is understood that the government is now preparing indictments against individuals and railroads for violating the Federal law in certain quarantine counties of North Carolina.

The government is willing to help us eradicate ticks, but if we won't take advantage of the offer, the Department of Agriculture is compelled to protect tick-free localities from our infected cattle. That is all.

CURRENT COMMENT.

A Brooklyn man became distrustful of banks, withdrew his money and put it in an old stove. His wife kindled a fire in the stove and now that man thinks most any old bank is safer than a stove.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

When the remainder of the State secures justice in freight rates it is due Wilmington that it has its part. The Charlotte Observer well says, "Wilmington is entirely right in insisting on being made a rate basing port. Not only that, but the influence of the shippers organized and unorganized, should be exerted to make this port count in North Carolina for what Norfolk counts in Virginia."—Raleigh News and Observer.

The Wilmington Star says: "Reconcile these two statements if you can. John Lind is a lifelong friend of Secretary Bryan. John Lind was sent to Mexico by Secretary Bryan, or rather at Secretary Bryan's instigation." We'll be the goat. What's the answer? Why should not President Wilson and his Secretary of State select for so important a mission someone they know and in whom they have confidence instead of calling in a rank stranger who might be even worse than the former ambassador —Charlotte Chronicle.

It is a fact, and The Times has to sadly confess it, that conditions in regard to social vice are worse in this city now than they were before, and that it looks like the people of Florence have been buncoed, handed a gold brick, tricked, fooled and given the laugh. If the breeding places of vice are to be cleaned out the people themselves will have to do it, and Florence people hate to have to do things themselves. We can judge of the number of people who are interested in this matter only by the response that is made for means to carry on the war, and that would give us about a dozen fighting men as against all of the forces and tricks of vice and its supporters.—Florence Times.

Wilmington does not take kindly to the railroads' proposal for a reduction of freight rates in North Carolina. Mr. J. Allan Taylor, the president of the New Hanover Just Freight Rate Association, declares that "in the readjustment of the rates from Virginia water points to North Carolina interior points the railroads must take in a readjustment of the North Carolina water points before the readjustment can be made equitable." In other words, Wilmington claims that she is being discriminated against that lower rates are being given cities up the State and no reduction is given in the tidewater section. We are not familiar with the details of the case. But the conclusion becomes increasingly apparent that in the settlement of the many-sided rate question the State has taken a big contract on its hands. It is a problem that the State ought to face in the interests of the people at large; and while temporary relief may come from legislation or by bargaining with the roads a satisfactory, permanent settlement will come only through a natural readjustment that will come by means of real development of Eastern Carolina's waterfront and waterways, supplemented perhaps by ruling of the State Corporation Commission and the Inter-State Commerce Commission.—Kinston Free Press.

FARM DEMONSTRATION WORK.

Interesting Changes Announced—Important Meetings to be Held.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 14.—During the past week the State agents in charge of demonstration work in the Southern States held a very enthusiastic meeting at Washington, D. C., under the supervision of Mr. Bradford Knapp of the bureau of plant industry. This meeting was for the purpose of discussing the best ways and means of conducting the work.

In North Carolina the work is conducted co-operatively by the United States Department of Agriculture, the State Department of Agriculture, and the A. & M. college, with Mr. C. R. Hudson as State supervisor. The boys' corn club work and the girls' canning and poultry work are now under the general direction of the State agent.

Mr. T. E. Browne, of Hertford county, now becomes assistant State agent, and will have direct charge of the corn clubs and extension work. Mr. Browne conducted corn club work in his own county very successfully for two years. He has been in the demonstration work for four years, two years as county agent and two years as district agent. Mr. Browne's promotion is a recognition of his satisfactory and successful efforts in the position which he is leaving to become assistant State agent. He will move to Raleigh about the first of September to assume his new duties.

The girls' club work for two years past has made signal success under the enthusiastic and efficient supervision of Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, of Raleigh. It has attracted attention and orders for its products in a number of States of the Union. The work is now to be considerably enlarged by adding a number of new counties, the funds for carrying on the work having been greatly increased. Mrs. McKimmon still remains in direct charge of the work.

The 65 farmer-teachers, who are conducting the demonstration work in over half of the counties of the State, will assemble at the A. & M. College, West Raleigh, next Tuesday, August 19th, for a 10-days' course of instruction in agriculture. During this time they will attend the State farmers' convention, which will be in session here for three days. At night the lectures will be illustrated. One of their most important sessions will be on Thursday afternoon, August 28th, when Drs. Joyner, Hill, Bourland, Martin and others will discuss the affiliation of men's, boys' and girls' demonstration work with rural schools.

Negroes Fall Out and One Gets Shot —Marriage of Interest

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., August 14.—Stephen Rogers, a colored farmer, shot Junius Cauley, another negro, in both legs yesterday afternoon at a plantation just over Neuse river from here.

The men, with others, were preparing to cure tobacco, and engaged in an altercation about the placing of a load of sticks to be used in the curing. Fists and bricks were used, and Rogers drew a revolver and shot his opponent in the right foot. Then, before Cauley fell, another ball struck him in the left leg. The wounded negro howled loudly, the bystanders fled and Rogers went into hiding from the officers. He has not been apprehended.

Invitations have been issued for the coming marriage of Louis Pearson, a well known business man of Kinston, to Miss Estella Silverstein, of New York. The nuptials will be celebrated here and several hundred cards have been sent out. The wedding will be an elaborate affair, and friends from many points will be present. Miss Silverstein has been visiting here for several weeks. She is the daughter of a prominent family in the North, and is a young woman of unusual beauty. The marriage will take place at 7:30 P. M., on August 28th, Rabbi Goodkowitch, of the local Hebrew congregation, will officiate.

SIGNS MUST COME DOWN

Chief Williams Gives Notice That Ordinance Must be Complied With —Verdict of Guilty in Case Before Recorder

Following the conviction in the Recorder's court yesterday morning of Mr. J. W. Murchison for violating the sign ordinance, Chief of Police Williams stated yesterday afternoon that he wanted all the merchants to take notice that the sign ordinance would be enforced to the letter and that those who have signs that do not confirm to the requirements of the city ordinance would do well to remove them immediately.

The case against Mr. Murchison was heard some days ago, but the Recorder reserved his decision until yesterday, a point having been raised in course of the trial which he desired time to investigate. Yesterday morning he announced that he would adjudge the defendant guilty, judgment being suspended upon payment of the costs. There are several similar cases on the docket. One of these, Mr. W. B. Cooper, being the defendant, was disposed of yesterday, L. Clayton Grant, Esq., who represented him having consented to a verdict of guilty. Mr. Grant stated on the day of the trial of the case against Mr. Murchison that the decision in the latter case would govern in the former. Mr. Grant and J. O. Garr, Esq., represented Mr. Murchison.

The ordinance under which the indictments were brought provides that "no signboard or other sign, other than an illuminating electrical sign, erected and maintained in substantial compliance with the requirements hereinafter set forth, shall be erected or suspended on, over or across any sidewalk or street or alley of the city, so as to project beyond the building line," etc.

Mannie Davis, colored, was found not guilty of larceny of an automobile. Mamie Brice, a negro woman, was found guilty of larceny in two cases and received a combined sentence of six months on the county farm.

INVESTIGATE INSTITUTION.

Senator Marsden Bellamy Member of Special Committee.

State Senator Marsden Bellamy, of this city, left last night for Kinston, where today he will meet with the other members of the special joint committee named by the last Legislature to make an investigation of the School for the Feeble-minded at Kinston, and make report. Representatives W. P. White, of Hobgood, and T. J. Gold, of High Point, are the other members of the committee, representing the House. A report will be made at the special session of the Legislature in September. The general affairs of the institution, the purposes for which it was established, etc., will be inquired into by the committee.

The 1911 session of the Legislature authorized the establishment of the institution and appropriated $60,000 for it upon condition that the town of Kinston donate the site. The buildings have been finished, but the school has not yet started. The committee will make recommendations to the Legislature as to further legislative appropriations, etc.

TOPSAIL FISHING CLUB

Secures Lease on Fishing Territory—Many Drum Caught

The Topsail Inlet Fishing Club held an important meeting yesterday morning in the office of the president, Mr. Theodore Empie, at which it was decided to lease for a period of 25 years about a mile and a half of beach fronting on the ocean north of Topsail Inlet. The property was recently acquired by Mr. Empie and Burke H. Bridgers, Esq., who are enthusiastic members of the club.

All original members of the club are to be made charter members, according to a decision reached yesterday, and a new classification of members will be formed. The members will be entitled to all rights and privileges except that of ownership in the property. The initiation fee will be decreased from $25 to $10, this being done in order to stimulate interest among the anglers. President Empie stated that more than 50 drum had been caught this season, with average weight of 25 pounds. The heaviest fish caught this season weiged 44 pounds.

CHESS AND CHECKER CLUB.

Mr. W. J. Shutes Met All-Comers Monday Night—Play Tonight.

Last Monday night the Wilmington Chess and Checker Club held a simultaneous tournament at which Mr. W. J. Shutes, of Gatun Dam, Panama, played ten members of the club. Mr. Shutes won three games, lost four and drew three. Mr. Shutes states that the local club is the strongest aggregation which he ever tackled and thinks it can hold its own with any other club in the country.

Mr. Shutes is a player of excellent ability, having at one time vanquished Capablanca, the Cuban champion, in simultaneous play. Mr. Shutes is attached to the United States engineer's office in this city and will make a valuable addition to the Wilmington Chess and Checker Club.

Simultaneous play will be resumed at the club this evening at 8:15 o'clock. Mr. F. W. Royster will play all comers. He will also give an exhibition of blindfold play. Members are invited to bring their friends.

Newbern Proud of Firemen

The Newbern Journal of yesterday says: "That was a splendid showing made by Newbern's firemen yesterday in Wilmington. It was calculated to make Newbern folks proud of their representatives in the fire-fighting fraternity. But that is no new sentiment as Newbern has always recognized its obligations to its firemen and has always been proud to do them honor. The brilliant success which has crowned the efforts of Newbern's firemen should be emulated in all other lines of endeavor. Let Newbern be a winner in whatever it undertakes. Our Newbern firemen, it must be confessed, are a greedy lot. The remarkable thing is that they would leave even one prize for the other companies in the State contest at Wilmington."

Services at Phoenix.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock there will be preaching in the Presbyterian church at Phoenix by the minister who regularly supplies the church every third Sunday at the morning service. All the members are requested to be present, as perhaps it will be the pastor's last service until October. All the people in the neighborhood have a special invitation.

LAST DAY OF TOURNAMENT

Inter-State Contests Will Take Place Today—Yesterday Was Given Over Entirely to Recreation—Dutch Lunch.

Three Events Today.
9:30 A. M.—Inter-State Hand Reel Contest.
11 A. M.—Inter-State Grab Reel Contest.
2:30 P. M.—Inter-State Horse Hose Wagon Contest.

Refreshed and invigorated after a day of rest and recreation in course of which they experienced the true hospitality of the Wilmington people, the firemen in attendance upon the 26th annual convention and tournament of the North Carolina Firemen's Association will today finish the tournament features of the gathering. There are three events today, as outlined above, and they will be participated in by companies of this State and South Carolina. Most of the firemen will likely leave this afternoon or evening for their respective homes, but a great many will remain over Sunday, their tickets being good until the 23rd.

Yesterday was devoted entirely to pleasure and the visitors seemingly enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. Certainly nothing was left undone by the local committee that would have added anything to the enjoyment of the visitors.

The steamer Wilmington made a special trip to Fort Caswell in order that the visiting firemen might have an opportunity to visit and inspect the modern fortifications there. Several hundred firemen took advantage of the opportunity. The steamer arrived on the return at 5 o'clock, the firemen going direct to the Germania Club house, corner Front and Orange streets.

It was here that the crowning entertainment feature of the convention took place, being in the form of a Dutch lunch. In addition to the firemen there were present city officials, members of the various committees and many others who had given Chief Schnibben assistance in entertaining the visitors, and some who hadn't also found their way to the club rooms, for open house was kept from 5:30 to 9 o'clock last night. Members of Germania Club were present to assist in serving. A large number of the delegates to the Carolina Municipal Association, in session at Wrightsville Beach, accepted the invitation extended to them and were among those who enjoyed the affair.

One of the many expressions of well wishes which Capt. J. D. McNeill, president of the association, has received since he has been in the city was a beautiful wreath of flowers presented to him at the convention Tuesday by Mr. Martin Rathjen, of this city. Coming as it did from one of the old fire fighters of Wilmington made it the more appreciated by Capt. McNeill.

Bucket Contests at Beach.

Last night at Lumina the bucket contests arranged by the Tidewater Power Company were participated in by a large number of the firemen, and were witnessed by a large crowd of spectators. They were designed to be amusing, and were very much enjoyed by all. In the individual contest Mr. William Thompson, of the Salem team, won first prize. Mr. T. L. Canup, of the East Spencer team, second prize, and Mr. J. M. Kluttz, also of the East Spencer team, third prize. The prizes were $5, $3 and $1, respectively for first, second and third places.

In the Bucket Brigade contest, which consisted of the filling of a barrel with water by the different teams, the one filling it in the quickest time getting the first prize, the Washington team carried off the first prize and East Spencer was second. The first prize was $12 and the second $6.

The following is from Wednesday's Columbia Record with reference to the Sumter, S. C., team which will enter the Inter-State contests today:

"The Sumter firemen left last night for Wilmington, N. C., to take part in the North Carolina Inter-State Firemen's tournament at that place Wednesday and Thursday. The hose and hand reel teams are in good condition to put up a good exhibition at Wilmington and stand a good chance to win some of the North Carolina money.

"The hose wagon team has been practicing hard for several weeks while the hand reel team has practiced several times of late. Both teams are fast and hope to make a fine showing at Wilmington. Jerry will be the horse to be taken to show in the parade and run in the inter-State races.

"The following members of the hose and hand reel teams attended: Chief R. E. Wilder, J. H. Forbes, Ryan White, Willie Jones, Al Keels, H. M. Phelps, Cliff Brown, Phil Booth, John Haynsworth, Hazel Brunson, Leon LeGrand, DeSaulssure Hall and Ormsby Blanding. There are very few changes in the two teams from those who went to Abbeville."

WILL LIKELY ENTER RACE.

Hon. John D. Bellamy, of This City, May be Candidate for Governor.

Following the publication in yesterday's Star of the dispatch from Raleigh stating that the names of Hon. John D. Bellamy and Col. Walker Taylor, of Wilmington, have been mentioned in connection with the gubernatorial contest, when the time comes, Mr. Bellamy gave out a statement yesterday in which he said that he could not say positively that he would be in the race, but that he most likely would be. Many strong friends from all parts of the State have urged him to become a candidate and it has been known for several months that he was giving serious consideration to the matter. Mr. Bellamy has served this district in Congress and is one of the leading lawyers of the State. He has a strong poltical following and will doubtless make a fine race for Governor in the event he decides to enter the contest. Following the usual custom the next Governor will come from the eastern part of the State.

Mr. Walton Improving.

Word was received here yesterday that Mr. James M. Walton, formerly of this city, but now of Norfolk, had passed away in that city, following a severe illness of some days, but later advices were to the effect that Mr. Walton was not only not dead, but was improving. From information received last night it seems that Mr. Walton has a splendid chance of recovery.

and the suppression of all bad things. As conditions exist in this State there can be no remedial legislation except through the dynamic force of public sentiment, and the Mayors can do much to mold this sentiment.

The importance of fire insurance can be readily seen when it is considered that there is annually collected for premiums over three million dollars, or practically the same sum as is collected by the State in taxes for all purposes. Legislators are slow to increase tax rates even when it is deemed absolutely necessary, and yet we see instances every day of insurance rates being increased and nothing is done to prevent it.

He declared that the rates in North Carolina are too high giving the following reasons for making this statement: First, because for over 30 years the companies have collected from the people of this State $2 for every $1 returned; second, because notwithstanding the high rates formerly charged the companies have recently increased them; third, because the people of the State are grossly discriminated against, not only in the rates but in the rules and regulations governing the business; fourth, because the rates are arbitrarily fixed by a combination of men who profit by high rates.

In considering the remedy for this state of affairs there are three ways to reduce the cost of insurance: First, by State Insurance. It is hardly necessary to consider this remedy as the people are not yet sufficiently informed to consider it seriously.

The second method is by State control of rates which should include the power to fix fair and just rates. This is a thoroughly practical method. The third method by which the rates may be reduced is by the creation of a healthy competition under proper State control.

Probably the best method, however, is by the formation of mutual companies, which will furnish insurance at cost. He cited the example of the cotton mills which, when they found that they were being charged grossly in excess of their New England competitors, went before the Legislature. The insurance companies granted them a greatly reduced rate, but even now they are charged about twice as much as they should be charged.

As the law now stands in this State mutual companies may be formed, but before beginning business a mutual company must secure $200,000 in 200 separate risks. This is little enough, but most property is already insured in stock companies, and it would be hard to secure 200 separate risks which the owners wish to insure at the same time. No one feels that he can afford to drop the policy he has to join the mutual at starting time, because he is charged extra by the company he drops.

Owing to peculiarly advantageous conditions this State can do what very few, if any other States can do. Safety lies in the distribution of risks and they are distributed here as in no other State. Less than 15 per cent of the population is classed as urban, while in Massachusetts 93 per cent of the population is urban. It is the big city which is a menace to the business. We have no big city, and why should we tax ourselves for the benefit of other cities in other States when we get nothing in return.

The trust is in the saddle in this State, and it will not be unhorsed without a struggle, he said. It will continue to deceive and mislead the people as long as they will allow it to do so. A bold and determined effort on the part of the Municipal Association will surely result in a victory for the cities and the entire State, said he in conclusion.

Mayor Murphy's Address

Mayor Murphy spoke on "The Commission Form of Government," especially as it is applied to his home city. His address was as follows:

"It is a great pleasure for me to be in this most popular resort of the South Atlantic coast, and to have the honor of addressing this assembly upon a live topic of municipal government. Before taking up the discussion of the subject assigned me I wish to express my appreciation of the many courtesies shown me and the words of welcome spoken by Mayors Moore and Wright.

"I think it would have been hard indeed to have selected a more propitious place for the discussion of governmental problems than this historic community where the very atmosphere is laden with National sentiment and the ocean waves are charged with world-wide eloquence.

"The Commission Form of Government, a subject which is claiming the attention of the urban population throughout the United States and Canada, is the third successive step of progress which our American cities have made toward obtaining a direct, economical and responsible form of city government, and the weight of public opinion is that it is the most successful and satisfactory solution of the governmental problem for cities. At least I am quite sure that this is the unanimous opinion of the citizens of Greensboro after having tried it for over two years.

"The term of business form of government could as well or more appropriately be given to this kind of government, for this is really what it is. We have installed a business system and applied business methods to a governmental organization and have secured business-like results. The American mind is essentially a business mind, and hence soon tires of pomp and glory in anything, and especially do we become restive when we meet with loads of red tape in our government.

"The old theory of city government is based upon the idea of representative government which is all right in State or Nation, but in local and municipal affairs it is unnecessary there being as much reason for having each family represented as there is for having each ward. A man whose views are necessarily bounded and controlled by ward lines has no business in a government intended for the whole of the city; therefore, the ward system tends towards a destructive instead of a constructive government.

"The new theory of city government is based upon the idea of service, broad, unselfish service, to the whole city regardless of ward lines or other minor consideration—a service which is inspired by a realization of full, direct responsibility, guided by a business system and sustained by ample remuneration.

"Our aldermanic system came from England where the Earldom served for nothing just as nearly all the English did from the members of the Parliament down. This system naturally lead to graft in the larger cities and to neglect in the smaller ones. In order to remedy these deplorable conditions investigating committees were appointed to run down the grafters in the larger cities while various subsidiary boards and commissioners did the work of the unpaid and negligent alderman in the smaller cities.

"This latter plan proved to be unsatisfactory for the reason that boards and commissions became the real rules without being responsible to the people. They also proved to be extravagant generally in that they secured larger appropriations for their respective departments than the city treasury could afford. The result was generally a deficit in the general fund of the city which ultimately had to be made good by a bond issue.

"The next step brought us to the Commission Form of Government. We have arrived at it by simply removing the useless and obstructive features of the former system, and consolidating the good and effective elements and by adding the referendum and the recall, thereby giving the people control. Take Greensboro, for instance, instead of eight boards and commissions composed of 30 men as under the old system we now have one board composed of three men.

"Under the old system we found that our officers, vested with authority, were scattered over town attending to their private affairs and no one but clerks in the city offices. Now we find the city commissioners at work attending to their governmental duties instead of their private affairs. Formerly we had board meetings once a month, we now have them daily. Formerly we had annual statements, we now have them daily, monthly and quarterly.

"Under the old system the hands of authority and the hands of performance were separated. Now they are joined together in one and the same set of officials, the three commissioners, who are elected by the people and are responsible to the people.

"The Commission Form of Government merges the legislative and the executive departments, the legislative and administrative, the collection and the disbursements all into one head. It correlates all similar duties into the same department, and consolidates many duties in the same officer. The result is a close, effective organization.

"The only dividend that the stockholders in a governmental corporation can secure is an efficient and strong government at the least costs. A city might accumulate a surplus of many dollars but there is no machinery by which it can be paid out in dividends except in official service. The perfect government is the one that has neither a deficit nor a surplus, and in order to administer this kind of government your officials must be paid adequate salaries and must devote their time and attention exclusively to the business of running the government. The Commission Form is the first and only plan that requires this kind of government.

"In the city of Greensboro where I have been mayor under both the aldermanic and Commission Form of Government the difference is very noticeable to me, and I have no hesitancy in saying that it is greatly in favor of the latter plan. And the foregoing reasons that I have given you were observed both during my experience as an official and non-official in the Gate City. Several of our North Carolina

LOLA NORRIS' STORY.

Girl Tells of Trip to Reno With Diggs and Caminetti.

San Francisco, Aug. 14.—Lola Norris followed Marsha Warrington on the witness stand today and related virtually unchanged, but even stronger terms than the story seduction, intimation and elapement from Sacramento to Reno, on which the government bases its prosecution of Maury I. Diggs and Drew Caminetti under the Mann Act. The trial of Cominetti will follow that of Diggs, now in progress.

The day was punctuated by a series of minor surprises. Juror Bliss showed a disposition to question the good faith of the government in withholding from evidence a transcript of the story told by Marsha Warrington to the assistant district attorney of Sacramento county on the way home from Sacramento after the arrests which are now in the possession of the prosecution. He was instructed by the court that the jury would take cognizance of nothing except what came regularly before it.

Curiosity as to his state of mind increased when after the noon adjournment he was 15 minutes late, but Judge Van Fleet accepted suavely his statement that he had misunderstood the instructions as to when he should return.

In dismissing the jury tonight the court repeated the usual caution and at the same time explained the particularly emphatic admonitions he gave yesterday.

"I don't want to be understood," said the judge, "as having implied yesterday that there was any well founded suspicion as to the integrity of the jury. The suggestion I had in mind came from one of my own attendants, but it did not mean that any one knew anything of a sinister nature about any one on this jury. It was suggested that a man resembling a member of this jury had been seen talking with some one connected with the defense."

cities have adopted the Commission Form of Government and several have rejected it, but I believe that the State-wide agitation of the subject has resulted in an awakening among our people throughout the State. Some of them have strengthened the aldermanic form by reducing the number of the same and paying them more.

"One of our cities has by the way adopted the system of having a manager under a small board of control which is, I think, as good for small cities as the commission plan for the larger cities.

"Greensboro is not run as a bank, and will not weary you with statistics but suffice to say that we are out of debt, and are within our income. We have paid off an issue of bonds during the present year, and are creating a sinking fund to pay off later issues."

Afternoon Session.

It had not been planned to have an afternoon session, but on account of the fact that Mayor Fred N. Tate, who was on the programme for an address today on "The Unjust Discrimination in Freight Rates," had to leave the city last night, it was decided to do so in order that he might be heard. Capt. J. D. McNeill, chairman of the legislative committee, also stated that he wished to make his report yesterday as he would be busy today with the firemen's tournament.

Mr. Tate on Rates.

Mr. Tate reviewed briefly the history of the work of the Just Freight Rate Association during the past three months, stating that 70 counties of the State had been organized into local associations. He stated that so far as he was concerned he began the fight for just rates three or four years ago, and he was in it to stay until the finish.

"We are simply asking for justice," he continued. "If Virginia cities have just freight rates then we want the same rates. If they are unjust, and are too low, then we want them raised on a parity with ours. We want to be put on an equal footing with our competitors. The proposition made by the railroads, and which was rejected at Raleigh this week, was an insult to the people of North Carolina. Rates from only two Western points were considered at all, and the most important was left out."

All the Eastern towns in North Carolina, said he, were absolutely ignored, and Wilmington wasn't considered for a moment. Only a few of the North Carolina towns were considered and be it said to the credit of their representatives, they didn't for a moment consider sanctioning it. The meeting at Raleigh was unanimous in its decison to reject the proposal of the railroads, although Raleigh, Greensboro and Winston-Salem would have profited by the arrangement proposed.

He deplored the fact that there had been a suggestion in some quarters that politics had found its way into the question. He declared that no officer of the Just Freight Rate Association had any political ambitions whatever. He thought that no man who carried a railroad pass should represent the people in the Legislature, and hoped that the time would soon come when no man would be allowed to go to the Legislature on a railroad pass.

Blames Corporation Commission.

"This eastern part of the State cannot trade with the western part neither can the western towns trade with the eastern towns on account of the un just rates which prevail," he continued. He thought that the Corporation Commission was largely to blame, but was glad to see that it was waking up to a true sense of its duty to the people. In the past there has been a tendency to regard the commission as a court, but it is nothing of the kind. It is, or should be, a servant of the people, and if the members do not represent the people they should be turned out and men secured who will. He also advocated the employment of a rate expert who shall see that the railroads do not impose upon the people.

He declared that in cases the railroads had for years been charging 25 per cent in excess of the published schedules. He explained by showing that on the branch lines they were allowed to charge 25 per cent extra on account of the low earning capacity of the road. But this does not apply except to the particular road. After the freight reaches the main line it is subject to the published rate. Instead of charging the 25 per cent excess for the road many of the roads in some instances charge it for the entire distance. He said that this was nothing more nor less than robbery.

It is only recently that the people of the State have woke to this condition of affairs, he said, and if the Just Freight Rate Association does nothing more than this it will have been worth while.

Annul A. & Y. Lease.

It was his opinion that as long as present conditions exist that Wilmington can never hope to be made a basing point for freight rates. The Atlantic Coast Line, which, he said, is evidently owned by the Southern, has it completely and effectually bottled up. He advocated the annulment of the lease of the Atlantic & Yadkin Valley road as well as all other leased lines as a practical solution of the problem.

In conclusion he discussed the long and short haul rates, and stated that the Inter-State Commerce Commission should enforce strictly the provisions of the law in this regard. He praised the work of Governor Craig, stating that he was a wise and courageous leader, and that he should be regarded as the leader of the just freight rate movement.

On motion the convention voted to endorse the work that the Just Freight Rate Association is doing.

Capt. McNeill's Report.

Capt. McNeill stated that one of the matters taken up by the legislative committee was to secure legislation for the relief of the towns who are paying a large proportion of the road and bridge tax of the county without receiving any corresponding credit. A bill was introduced proposing to make all roads leading into the towns and cities public highways. It went through the House but failed in the Senate.

Other matters taken up by the committee were bills to make telephone and telegraph companies pay privilege tax. Another was to remove the State privilege tax which is charged all professional men such as doctors, lawyers, etc., so that the towns could charge them a privilege tax in the same way that they do butchers, bootblacks, etc. All of these failed with the exception of the telegraph companies, which were forced to pay a small license tax.

A warm discussion was provoked by the suggestion of Mayor Eaton to take up the matter of having an amendment to the constitution providing that all fines and forfeitures collected by a city shall go to the city instead of the county school fund as is done at present. It was the general opinion of the assembly that this should be done, but there was a divergence of opinion as to how it could be gotten at. Finally a committee was appointed to take up the matter and report today.

Auto Ride Today.

The visiting city officials will be taken for a ride over the city of Wilmington and the county this afternoon. The party will leave the beach on the 5:45 P. M. car, arriving at Wrightsville station a few minutes before 6 o'clock. Automobiles will be in waiting and the visitors will be taken for a trip over the roads of the county and through the city, arriving at Front and Princess streets in time for the party to take the 7 o'clock suburban car back to the beach.

Wrightsville Beach

Misses Dollie and Cassie O'Keef are visiting Mrs. H. E. O'Keef, No. 207 Walnut street.

Miss Elizabeth Bridgers will leave today for Asheville, where she will spend the remainder of the Summer.

Miss Margaret Drake, of Grand Rapids, Mich., is the guest of Mrs. J. Ross McNeal, of Burgaw, at the Seashore Hotel.

Mr. Robert Bridgers returned Friday to Asheville after spending a few days at the beach as the guest of his mother, Mrs. Bettie H. Bridgers.

Among those registered at the Hanover Inn yesterday were W. H. Hunt, Lexington; W. E. Ratchford, Carlisle, S. C.; R. M. Brown, Sumter, S. C.; L. W. Pinnix, Richmond, Va.

Miss Nell Battle, of Montgomery, Ala., is spending a few days at Mrs. Annie Northrop's cottage. She expects to leave Monday for the western part of the State, where she will spend the remainder of the Summer.

Capt. Edgar L. Hinton, the popular manager of the Seashore Hotel, has recovered his collie dog which was missed from the hotel some days ago. The canine was found in the county between Wilmington and Federal Point.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hussey have just returned to their home, No. 102 North Fourth street, after a delightful visit to Mrs. Hussey's parents in Baltimore. They were accompanied home by their sister, Miss Mary L. Moran, of Baltimore, and Miss Sue Hussey, of Wallace.

Three reels of splendid pictures will be presented at the moving picture exhibition at Lumina tonight. The programme includes a Lubin war drama entitled "The Price of Jealousy;" a Vitagraph picture called "Off the Road," and a romantic story "A Plain Girl's Love."

Complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Robt. H. Gwaltney, of New York city, Mrs. Harry Stearns, of Atlanta, entertained a number of friends at a watermelon party at the Oceanic Hotel. The affair proved one of the most enjoyable of the many social events held on the beach this season.

Included in the arrivals at the Seashore Hotel yesterday were W. E. Baldwin, Whiteville; Miss Mattie Yokley, Mt. Airy; E. M. Yoder, Hickory; Miss E. E. Herring, Roseboro; C. H. Watson, Fayetteville; L. G. Richardson, Florence, S. C.; C. C. Herbert, Spartanburg, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Timberlake, Hartsville, S. C.

Unless weather conditions prevent the fireworks exhibition that was scheduled to take place next Monday night, will take place at Lumina tonight. The date was changed in order that the exhibition might be given while the firemen's tournament is in progress. These fireworks displays are very popular and the exhibition tonight will no doubt be much appreciated by the many visitors now in the city and on the beach. The exhibition will begin at 9 o'clock.

Among the arrivals at the Oceanic Hotel yesterday were T. L. Bass, Sanford; A. C. Jetton, Jr., Macon, Ga.; James A. Wellons, Smithfield; Oscar and Henry Fussell, Rose Hill; Seth Gibbs, Beaufort; H. OWNERS OF VESSELS WARNED

Vessels of Thousands Tons Or More Must Have Three Licensed Mates

Washington, August 14.—Atlantic coast steamship and towboat owners were warned today that in the future the Department of Commerce will rigidly enforce the Hardy law requiring all vessels of 1,000 tons or over to have three licensed mates. Representatives of the owners and of the association of masters, mates and pilots met at the department to hear Acting Secretary Sweet outline the government's policy.

Heretofore the owners have claimed that it was impossible to get a sufficient number of licensed mates to comply with the law and on this ground many fines for violations have been remitted. Captain R. H. Cowan, of New York, speaking for the masters, mates and pilots, told the acting secretary that there would be no trouble about getting mates if adequate wages and proper sleeping quarters were provided. The steamship men said they would exert every effort to comply with the law, but insisted that third mates had practically no duties to perform and that the statute should be repealed.

TO STIMULATE AMBITION.

Non-Commissioned Officers Given a Chance of Promotion.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Stimulation of ambition among the warrant officers of the United States navy is the object of a circular letter sent today throughout the service by Secretary Daniels who is anxious to see non-commissioned officers aspire to commissioned rank. Under the law 12 warrant officers a year can be elevated to positions as ensigns, provided the pass the examination prescribed, but very few in recent years have seized the opportunity.

PANAMA SIGNS TREATY.

Fourth Nation to Accept Bryan's Peace Plan in Detail.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Panama is the fourth nation to accept in detail Secretary Bryan's international peace plan. It was announced at the State Department today that the documents necessary for the preparation of a treaty were now on the way to Washington from Panama.

Guatemala and Costo Rica have agreed to enter into treaties under the plan, and such a convention with Salvador is awaiting ratification by the United States Senate.

..Theatrical..

The most stupendous, most costly, and most brilliant moving picture presentation ever made in Wilmington or anywhere else will be the Academy of Music's offering for three days next week, with a daily matinee, commencing Monday.

It will be a presentation of the great photodrama, "Les Miserables," the masterpiece of Victor Hugo, and it takes seven mammoth reels to afford the exhibition. Besides there will be all effects and incidental music. So theatre-goers can look forward to seeing something really extraodinary. The film is only being presented in the largest cities and therefore, Wilmington is fortunate in securing it. The production is said to have cost $100,000 and a notable cast posed for the pictures.

"Les Miserables" was finished in 1862. The Paris edition of 7,000 copies was sold in 24 hours. It was translated into every literary language of the world. It was read in the depths of Tartar Muscovy and in far-off Japan. During the Civil War this romance was the favorite novel of both armies. A special edition called the "Volunteer's" was published for them. The soldiers carried the book in their knapsacks and feverishly devoured it between battles. What greater tribute could a novel have?

Over 50 years old, this story is as new as if written but yesterday. For instance, in the theatre of today the craze is for the "crime play" of underworld life which started with "Sherlock Holmes" and "Raffles" and has reached its apogee in "Within the Law." "Les Miserables" is the forerunner and father of them all. Never was there shown a greater conflict between the man and the law than that between Valjean and Javert.

There will be daily matinees at 2:30 with 25 cent prices; children 10 cents. The night prices are 25 and 50 cents.

The Bijou Today.

Tell it to the little ones in gladness. The Bijou today will present a film for their special benefit, although it will be enjoyed by older folks fully as well. As the star of its big bill today this popular theatre will offer Pathe's wonderful creation, "The Babes in the Woods." Who has not heard of this old nursery story and been interested by it? The Pathe film is a magnificent one and it is colored, which will add to its charm. Every child should see this big film and, no doubt, the Bijou will be jammed with the youngsters this afternoon. Today's bill will be notable in many other ways, too. Kalem's latest, "A Bolt from the Sky", with Alice Joyce in the stellar role, will be another topliner and is a thriller. That clever, well known actor, Maurice Costello, will also appear on the screen today, in the Vitagraph's latest, "The Spirit of the Orient," something most fascinating.

The Grand's Bill.

One of the big things being done now by the moving picture people is making moving pictures of the famous dramas of the day, with a cast of noted artists appearing. The Grand has obtained one of these latest productions in Bronson Howard's famed "Shenandoah", a story of the War Between the States, and will present it as the star of its great film bill today. The story is in three special reels and each is a thriller. It is one of the most mammoth productions ever made and every man, woman and child in Wilmington should see it. The play is one that gets $2 per seat and was only picturized by the payment of big royalty. Hundreds of men were used in the war scenes, which have often been procaimed by those who know to be the most correct ever given on the stage. It is something great and should not be missed for the small sum of 5 cents. In addition to this swell offering the Grand will present a superb comedy, in Lubin's "Pete Joins the Force", which is a scream for laughter. The Grand will be extraordinarily popular today, especially as it is the comfortable spot.

No Longer Do Women Fear The Greatest of All Human Blessings.

It is a joy and comfort to know that those much-talked-of pains and other distresses that are said to precede child-bearing may easily be avoided. No woman need fear the slightest discomfort if she will fortify herself with the well-known and time-honored remedy, "Mother's Friend."

This is a most grateful, penetrating, external application that at once softens and makes pliant the abdominal muscles and ligaments. They naturally expand without the slightest strain, and thus not only banish all tendency to nervous, twitching spells, but there is an entire freedom from nausea, discomfort, sleeplessness and dread that so often leave their impress upon the babe.

The occasion is therefore one of unbounded, joyful anticipation, and too much stress can not be laid upon the remarkable influence which a mother's happy, pre-natal disposition has upon the health and fortunes of the generation to come.

Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers, thousands of whom have used and recommend it. You will find it on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 130 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most instructive book on this greatest of all subjects, motherhood.

COTTON MARKET MORE ACTIVE

Selling More General—Offerings Well Absorbed After an Early Break. Last Prices Steady at a Net Loss.

New York, Aug. 14.—The cotton market was more active today, and selling seemed to be rather more general, including considerable pressure from houses with Southern connections, which was supposed to be against the approaching movement. Offerings, however, were pretty well absorbed after an early break into new low ground for the movement, and while the demand was attributed chiefly to realizing by recent sellers, last prices were steady at a net loss of two to six points.

Relatively steady Liverpool cables were reflected at the opening, which was net unchanged to 4 points higher, but prices almost immediately weakened under reports of further scattering showers in the Southwest, bearish crop advices from the Eastern belt, an unfavorable view of trade conditions, and private predictions that rains would soon become more general in the Southwest. This view of the weather outlook was not confirmed, because the official forecast, which called for fair weather with the exception of showers on the Texas coast and rather a dullish construction was placed on the census supply and distribution figures. Offerings, however, were heavy, and prices soon worked some seven to ten points under the closing figures of last night.

January and December contracts made new low ground for the season, and this level seemed to attract considerable profit-taking by recent sellers. The buying was encouraged by the detailed weather reports, showing only a few scattered showers in the Southwest, further shipments from the local stocks and rumors that a private crop report to be issued tomorrow morning would be bullish, but there was no aggressive support and rallies were barely maintained. Closing prices were three to four points up from the lowest. Some Georgia authorities predict that the crop in that State will fully equal that of 1911, and the most serious deterioration reports received during the day were from Oklahoma.

STOCKS DECLINE SLIGHTLY

Optimism Gives Way to Moderate Degree of Pessimism—Continued Rain Deficiency Over Large Area of Southwest.

New York, Aug. 14.—The optimism which proved so helpful to the stock market in the first half of the week gave way today to a moderate degree of pessimism, engendered in part by more thoughtful consideration of improvement in current conditions. Among these were the state of the steel and iron industry, and continued rain deficiency over large areas of the Southwest.

Declines averaged a point, the set back being ascribed in a measure to London's lower range for our stocks, as well as extensive selling for the same account here. Lowest prices were made in the last hour, during which time the market drifted along in sluggish fashion. Steel was then heaviest of the favorite issues, losing over a point, with other stocks of speculative importance, were a substantial fraction or more under the preceding day. Wabash issues were especially weak.

Foreign markets showed some irregularity, but discounts were easier in London on the satisfactory settlement and the favorable bank statement. The Bank of England gained over $10,000,000 gold and increased its total reserves by $12,500,000, while its reserve liability rose decidedly over the preceding week. Another decline in rentes had no effect on the firmness of the Paris bourse.

Supply of money in the local market fell off today, but was sufficient to meet all requirements, with no change in time accommodations. Further buying of commercial paper on a more moderate scale was reported. Bonds were heavy, with sharp declines in some active issues.

Government bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales, par value, $1,150,000. Total sales were 307,900 shares, including A. C. L., 600; C. and O., 4,400; L. 2nd, tract.—Beginning in the dividing line between Oldenbuttle's tract and the tract of D. N. Chadwick, the same being the Western line of a tract of land conveyed to Lilly M. R. Oldenbuttle by Steven W. Noble and wife, by deed dated the 27th of October, 1891, and registered in the office of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, in Book 8, page 422 et seq., and corrected by deed dated the 3rd day of May, 1894, and recorded in Book 13, at pages 344 et seq., of the records of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, at a point where said dividing line is intersected by the Northern line of the right of way of the connecting line between the Wilmington & Newbern Railroad, and the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, and the said points being 600 feet Northwardly from the old Newbern dirt road, and runs thence Northwardly with said dividing line about 1,500 feet to the Northern line of the said tract; thence Eastwardly with the said Northern line 200 feet to the Eastern line of said tract; thence Southwardly with the said Eastern line to the right of way of said railroad; thence Westwardly with said railroad to the beginning, the same being all that part of a tract of land conveyed to the said Lilly M. 3rd tract.—Beginning at W. H. Mills' Northwest corner of the Hardwick tract, 200 feet Westwardly from the pine stump marking the old Hardwick line, and runs thence Northwardly 4 deg. 30 min. N. Chadwick's Northern line of his 20-acre tract; thence with said line North 88 deg. West 2 chains and 68 links to a stone marked D. N. C., a corner of the said D. N. Chadwick's 20-acre tract; thence with said Chadwick's line of said tract South 4¼ deg. West 11 chains and 44 links to the beginning, containing 52¼ acres.

All of said land hereinbefore described being the same conveyed to W. A. Simpkins by D. N. Chadwick, Jr., by deed duly registered in the office of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, in Book 62, page 73.

Said sale is made by reason of the failure of W. A. Simpkins and wife to pay off and discharge the indebtedness described in said deed of trust.

This 13th day of July, 1913.

the Governor at 11:06 o'clock.

"All right," said Mr. Sulzer in accepting service.

Lieutenant Governor Glynn reached the capitol at 11:25 o'clock and went to his office on the third floor.

"I shall exercise whatever functions of government may come before me," he said. "However, I shall use my own staff, and not enlist the aid of the militia.

The opinions of some of the Governor's friends the court of impeachment never sit in judgement on his case, and Mrs. Sulzer will be saved the ordeal of examination at the hands of counsel for political interests bitter toward her husband.

There will be no undignified fight for the Governorship, according to statements setting forth the intentions of both claimants for the office.

Mrs. Sulzer's temperature was 102, her pulse 110, her condition serious and she can see no one, according to a bulletin issued at noon by Dr. Robert Abrams, the specialist summoned from New York last night to attend her.

Governor Sulzer continued to exercise the functions of the executive today signing among other papers a requisition from the Governor of New Jersey for the extradition of a person in custody in this State. The name of the individual sought by the New Jersey authorities was not made public.

Adjutant General Hamilton, head of the National Guard of New York, a Governor Sulzer appointee, recognized Lieutenant Governor Glynn as acting Governor of the State this afternoon, sending an emissary to him to ask if there were any orders he cared to transact. Mr. Glynn said he had no orders and if he should have any in the future he would make them in writing.

Secretary of State May has decided to recognize Mr. Glynn's claim to the acting Governorship, according to Mr. Glynn's friends. The great seal of the State of New York is in May's office and access to it will be given Mr. Glynn and denied Mr. Sulzer, they assert.

The great seal was locked and chained this afternoon to prevent its unwarranted use. The seal is in the office of Secretary of State May. Mr. Glynn's confidents assert that Mr. May will permit the Lieutenant Governor, but not Governor Sulzer to use it. The key is in possesson of a deputy to Mr. May.

Counsel for both Sulzer and Glynn were considering this afternoon the advisability of conferring in the near future and submitting an agreed statement of facts to the proper court for prompt decision as to who is Governor of New York State. D. Cady Herrick, chief counsel for Sulzer, so announced.

Will Institute Suit

Philadelphia, August 14.—Following her assertion that she had not dropped her breech of promise case against Governor Sulzer, Miss Mignon Hopkins, the pretty cloak model, today declared that she was preparing to go to New York to institute proceedings against Mr. Sulzer.

New Jersey Recognizes Glynn

Trenton, N. J., August 14.—Governor Fielder has officially recognized Lieutenant Governor Martin H. Glynn as chief executive of New York State. Mr. Fielder was forced to make a choice tonight when prosecutor Robert E. Hudspeth, of Hudson county, required extradition of Charles Mason under arrest in New York, and wanted in Hudson county as an alleged pickpocket.

When the requisition papers had been made out a question arose as to whom the request should be sent, Governor Sulzer or Lieutenant Governor Glynn.

It finally was decided not to recognize Governor Sulzer under the pending impeachment proceedings and the clerk in the executive office was told to direct the request to the Lieutenant Governor.

"JOE" TINKER INTERVIEWED

Replying to Rumors Says He Will Not Quit "Under Fire"

Philadelphia, August 14.—"Joe" Tinker, manager of the Cincinnati baseball team, now playing in this city, when asked this afternoon regarding rumors that he intended to resign because of criticism over the standing of the team in the race for the pennant replied he would not quit "under fire." He admitted, however, that there was some friction between himself and others connected with the management.

Cincinnati, August 14.—A statement attributed to Manager "Joe" Tinker, of the Cincinnati team, now playing in Philadelphia and published here today quotes him as saying that the condition of his team is bad and that possibilities of improving it are worse. He blames President Herrman, of the club, for disposing of a number of players, that while worthless to the Cincinnati club as players, would have been valuable in trades that might have been made.

"How can I obtain good players," said Tinker, "when I have no players to offer. The minor league officials will not give up a player nowadays unless his place is filled to some extent by another player. Mr. Herrmann had ridded the team of all superfluous material, and I am up against a stone wall. Herrman is a fine fellow and a good sportsman, but has not seen fit to do as McGraw and Mack do, hold a few men in reserve for trades."

When Mr. Herrman discussed the above interview today, he said:

"I believe Tinker has been misquoted to a certain extent, but if he has not I am surprised. He has been consulted in every trade or sale. You can say, however, that we are satisfied with "Joe" Tinker, and this rumor about his quitting is, I believe, false."

WOMAN'S POSITION.

Not Intended to be Same as Man's, Says Archbishop.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 14.—"I do not believe that the Creator intended the position of woman in the world should be the same as that of man," said Archbishop Sebastian G. Messmer, of the Milwaukee diocese, in an address before the members of the Catholic Press Association today, in which he spoke against woman suffrage.

"However," he added, "I would not dare to come out with a positive statement that agitation for woman suffrage is against the rules of the church. The church has not taken any definite stand and until it does each individual has a right to think, talk and act as he sees fit. There has not even been a clear expression of what the traditions of the church would be."

Pittsburg, Aug. 14.—Cincinnati was chosen for the next convention, and officers were elected by the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen at the business session here today.

programme outlined for him before he went to Mexico City.

While there is no official announcement forthcoming it is generally understood that the communication which Mr. Lind bears is substantially a reiteration of President Wilson's Latin-American statement issued early in his administration in which he pointed out that the United States must prefer in its associations those governments which were set up through law and order, rather than those which sprang into being through irregular and arbitrary forces.

It also is accepted that the communication points out that recognition by the United States can be extended only to a government which is created through a constitutional election. It is President Wilson's hope that a suspension of hostilities may be brought about in Mexico and an early election called.

The Mexican situation promises to come up again in the Senate tomorrow as Senator Penrose planned tonight to make an appeal in behalf of Sherley C. Hulse, who, with his wife and daughter, is said to be in danger in Chihuahua. Hulse is a son-in-law of Lieutenant Governor Reynolds, of Pennsylvania.

Secretary Bryan today dispatched a telegram to the American consul at Juarez instructing him to use a courier if necessary to get word to the American consul at Chihuahua to take measures to relieve the Hulses.

Advices to the State Department from Guaymas reported conditions peaceful there. Comparative quiet prevails around the city of Durango, which is held by Constitutionalists, and no restrictions against the departure of Americans are reported.

Ambassador Wilson had no comment to make tonight on Secretary Bryan's action but intimated that he might have something to say tomorrow. The ambassador was in conference during the evening with William Alden Smith a member of the foreign relations committee.

War Folly, Says Fairbanks.

Indianapolis, Aug. 14.—"To sacrifice the life of one soldier for all the dollars which investors and speculators have ventured in Mexico would be the supremest folly," former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks declared tonight in addressing the mid-Summer meeting of the Indiana Republican Editorial association upon the situation in Mexico.

"If our speculators in Mexico suffered pecuniary loss as the result of recurring revolutions, that is a matter for future consideration when a stable government and peace are fully established in the country," he continued. "It is not sufficient warrant for shedding American's blood."

"President Wilson is doing all that is possible to handle the situation peaceably, and former President Taft dealt admirably with the question," Mr. Fairbanks declared.

"And I believe," the speaker added, "that Ambassador Wilson conducted himself with wise and good judgment. It seems that the Mexican situation is one that need not cause serious alarm.

Uncle Sam's Duty Plain.

"The duty of the United States is a plain one. President Wilson is dealing with it the best he can and we should endeavor to uphold his hands. By doing so we shall make his task a comparatively easy one.

"It is not an hour for either little politics or sensational journalism. The clamor of the jingoes should not be allowed to drown the voice of rational, deliberate statesmanship.

"The contingency of intervention under all circumstances would be a calamity which every American in the best interests of his own country might regard with grave concern."

In opening his address Mr. Fairbanks referred to the unrest prior to the Spanish-American war, and declared much of the demand for war was brought about by persons who wished to profit through government contracts or the exploitation of the natural resources of Cuba.

Sinister Motives Prompt Unrest.

"It is obvious that much of the agitation which led to the war with Spain and ultimately imposed upon us the responsibility of governing ten millions of people, and which caused the government to spend hundreds of millions of dollars was of the most selfish and sinister character."

Mr. Fairbanks declared "Men who wanted to fatten on government contracts, or who were eager for military distinction, or who wanted Cuba annexed to exploit her railroads, sugar and tobacco plantations and other resources of wealth, were eager for war. The yellow press played its selfish and nefarious part. It was moved by no considerations of either patriotism or national honor.

"I have no doubt that the disturbances in Mexico during the last few years have been due in a greater or less degree to the effort on the part of ambitious, cunning men to force intervention and possibly annexation to the United States.

"Intervention in Mexico means war, war means the destruction of human lives, and the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars. It means that the responsibility of the government of twenty million people for an indefinite period. We are now engaged in governing ten millions of aliens as the result of the Spanish-American war—a war which very probably could have been averted if we had exercised a little more patience, patriotism and self-restraint.

FATAL OUTBREAK OF MINERS.

One Workman Killed and Two Officers Wounded.

Calumet, Mich., Aug. 14.—One striking copper miner was killed and two deputy sheriffs were wounded tonight in the first fatal outbreak of the copper miners' strike. The fight took place at Seeberville, an Italian miners' settlement. The miner was killed while resisting arrest.

The deputies went to Seeberville to get two strikers, who had forced the line of guards at the Champion mine of the Copper Range Consolidated company. The two strikers refused to be halted by the guards. Later, when deputies went to Seeberville to arrest them, strikers gathered and attacked the officers with bottles and revolvers.

A conference was held today between Judge Alfred J. Murphy, of Detroit, special representative of Governor Ferris and managers of the Star mines. The outcome of the conference was kept secret. Judge Murphy will report the results of his mission to the governor. It is understood arbitration was the keynote of his mission to put an end to the presence of troops at the mines.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 14.—United States Senator John D. Works is at his Los Angeles home with the intention of remaining away from Washington through the remainder of the special session of Congress until matters of grave importance compel his return. "I have made my fight on the tariff," he said.

THE NEW SENATOR

Henry D. Clayton Succeeds Late Joseph F. Johnston, of Alabama

Washington, August 14.—Representative Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, will present his credentials tomorrow as successor to the late Joseph F. Johnston, as United States Senator. Appointed by Governor O'Neal to serve out the term of Senator Johnston, Mr. Clayton will face the unanimous opposition of the leading lawyers of his own party in the Senate who are convinced that Governor O'Neal has not made the appointment in conformity with the 17th amendment to the constitution.

The Senate leaders are agreed that a special session of the Alabama Legislature must be called before the Governor will have authority to name a Senator.

It became known tonight that Representative Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, Democratic leader in the House, and mentioned as a Senatorial possibility, does not expect to be a candidate for an appointment to fill out Senator Johnston's term in the event Mr. Clayton is not seated. It is possible, however, that Mr. Underwood will enter the field in 1915 for the long term.

Montgomery, Ala., August 14.—Governor O'Neal, of Alabama, late today gave out a statement in which he denied in detail published assertions that he had "disregarded the unanimous advice of every Democratic member of the Senate "when he exercised the power of appointment and appointed Congressman Henry D. Clayton, to the vacancy in the United States Senate caused by the death of Senator Joseph F. Johnston. In the statement Governor O'Neal said:

"The only telegrams I have received from Washington since the death of Senator Johnston was a telegram from Senator John W. Kern, of date Saturday, August 9th, in which he suggested the importance of my securing authority from the Legislature to immediately fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Johnston, and Senator F. M. Simmons, also wired asking the advice expressed by Senator Kern.

"At the time the two telegrams were received it was issued by myself and my legal advisers that the only course I could pursue was to order a special election, or get authority from the Legislature to fill the vacancy temporarily. Since, the suggestion was made by attorneys, Senators and Representatives who attended Senator Johnston's funeral, that I could exercise the power of appointment without convening the Legislature in extra session, so far as I am advised, Washington leaders have expressed no opinion.

"The two telegrams from Senators Kern and Simmons are the only two telegrams I have received from any membrr of the Senate. Neither Senator Overman or any other member of the judiciary committee have sent me any telegrams given me any advice or made any suggestions as to the course I shauld pursue to meet the emergency created by the death of Senator Johnston."

GRAND ENCAMPMENT ENDS

Sir Knights Choose Los Angeles As Next Convention City

Denver, Colo., August 14.—With the election of Grand Encampment officers, conclusion of drilling contests and the selection of Los Angeles as the next conclave city, the thirty-second triennial conclave came to an end tonight, when Sir Knights and their ladies left the grand ball given them in the auditorium.

Today was one of the busiest during the conclave and members of the Grand Encampment in secret session this morning spent many hours in balloting upon officers. Practically the only contest was in the selection of grand junior warden which was won by W. H. Norris, of Manchester, Iowa, on the third ballot. Samuel P. Cochran, of Dallas, Texas, stood second.

Practically no fight was made against Los Angeles, though New York and New Orleans were said to have been mentioned.

Besides the election of the junior and senior grand wardens at today's session of the Grand Encampment, H. Wales Lines, of Meriden, Conn., was chosen grand treasurer; F. H. Johnson, of Kentucky, was elected grand recorder.

By rules of the Grand Encampment which provide for succession of officers, the following, with those above mentioned, constitute the officers of the Grand Encampment.

It was given out from authoritative sources that the following officers had been elected as a result of today's balloting:

Grand Master—Arthur MacArthur, Troy, N. Y.

Deputy Grand Master—Lee S. Smith, Pittsburgh.

Grand Generalissimo—J. K. Orr, Atlanta.

Grand Captain General—J. W. Chamberlain, St. Paul.

Grand Senior Warden—Leonidas Newby, Knightstown, Ind.

W. H. Norris, of Manchester, Iowa, was elected grand junior warden on the third ballot. S. P. Cochran, of Dallas, Texas, was second, and George W. Vallery, of Denver, third.

ACQUITTED BY COURT MARTIAL.

Former Commissary Steward on the Utah Found Not Guilty.

Norfolk, Va., April 14.—Charles V. Houston, of Dorchester, Mass., former chief commissary steward on board the battleship Utah, has been acquitted by the Court Martial which convened at the Norfolk navy yard July 7th, to try him on charges alleging violation of the department rules forbidding naval employees accepting any emolument or gratuity from persons engaged in furnishing supplies to the navy.

The acquittal of Houston was not satisfactory to Mr. Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, and the verdict of the court was disapproved by the department. However, acquittal by court martial not being subject to review, the attitude of the department does not affect the situation of the defendant unless, possibly, in respect to reenlistment.

The arraignment of the steward was upon charges of "scandalous conduct, tending to destroy good morals in the navy," in support of which the chief specification was that Houston had borrowed money from an agent of a Newport News naval contracting company and that the loan constituted a gratuity because obtained without guarantee of its return or the payment of interest.

It was admitted by Houston, and also by the agent, that the loan was made, but each asserted that Houston had promised to pay interest at the legal rate.

It was shown that Houston had returned $300 of the loan prior to his arrest.

The same court tried Paymaster T. J. Arms, of the battleship Louisiana, on discriminations growing out of the commissary affairs of that vessel. The verdict has not been announced in the Arms case.

BIG DEFICIT IN BANK

Charge Treasurer of Surety Trust Co., With Shortage

Newark, N. J., August 14.—After closing the Surety Trust Co., examiners of the State Banking Department continued their investigation of the books and tonight announced that the alleged shortage of Raymond E. Smith, treasurer of the institution, would reach $305,000.

Smith has not been seen since he excused himself yesterday after assisting the bank examiners in their work.

The examiners tonight admitted they have not finished and that there is a strong probability that the deficit will go higher than the amount already alleged to have been found. The police have not been asked to search for Smith. It is said, however, that private detectives employed by the Surety company on the treasurer's bond are working on the case.
